"Woman" Shot During Holdup

Neighbor Hears Screams and Kills Bandit Disguised as Female.

By The Associated Press

DAYTON, O., July 25 — A middle-aged, beldheaded man disguised in women's clothing was shot and killed shortly before midnight and his companion apparently wounded seriously by a retired railroad worker who responded to the screams of a 60-year-old woman who had been bound and gagged in her home here.

Police said that the dead man had not been identified, and his companion escaped in a Ford coupe after trailing blood from the kitchen of the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Thompson.

Police reported:

Mrs. Thompson was sitting alone in her home when she heard a knock at the door.

A man and a "woman" told her they had come to repay her husband some money they owed him.

Mrs. Thompson became suspicious because her husband was vacationing at a cottage at Quincy, O., and had said nothing about the debt.

When she attempted to close the door, the undisguised man whipped out a pistol. The men grabbed her, threw her to the floor and attempted to bind her wrists with adhesive tape.

William Bennett, living next door, heard Mrs. Thompson's screams before the bandits crammed $40 in currency into her mouth and ran to her porch, but when the two men saw him they flew to the Thompson kitchen.

Bennett raced to the back of the house where he fired through a screen door, wounding the undisguised man. When the bandits dashed to the front of the house, Bennett met them as they came

27 Miners Lose Lives In Illinois Explosion

By The Associated Press

WEST FRANKFORT, Ill., July 25—Twenty-seven miners lost their lives in an explosion yesterday in one of the state's largest mines in the heart of the southern Illinois coal fields.

Twenty-six of the approximate 200 miners at work in the diggings 500 feet underground were found dead about a mile and a half south of the bottom of the shaft at the main entrance to the Old Ben Coal Company's No. 8 mine. One of the five seriously burned and injured in the blast died today in a hospital.

The bodies of all 26 had been brought to the surface early today by rescue squads and were placed in an emergency morgue set up at the central junior high school gymnasium. Relatives who remained at the mine throughout the night during rescue operations, sought to identify the victims.

Work Hampered

Work was hampered by carbon monoxide gas and the last three bodies were buried beneath coal and debris.

Harold L. Walker, Illinois director of mines and minerals, said many of the bodies were burned badly, indicating, he said, a fire had broken out following the explosion. The cause of the blast early had not been determined.

During the rescue operations there had been conflicting reports of the total number of men trapped. The rescue teams worked frantically to reach the men in the belief they had been trapped by rock slides and might be alive. However, early today Walker said all 26 men were dead. Earlier Coroner D. J. Clayton of Franklin said 28 and lost their lives.

Lewis Kin in Mine

One of the miners at first believed among those trapped but who later was reported safe was Howard Lewis, underground superintendent and a brother of John L. Lewis, president of the AFL United Mine Workers.

Of the estimated 200 day shift workers in the diggings those who escaped fled through an auxiliary air shaft equipped with stairways for emergencies.

The blast occurred within one day of four months from the explosion last March 25 at the Centralia (Ill.) Coal Company's mine which cost the lives of 111 miners.

William W. Lamont, manager of the UMW hospital, said the injured miners told him that dust ignited by a spark from a motor caused the explosion, and a fire followed.

EAST AND CALIFORNIA FEEL EARTH SHOCKS

Earthquakes rattled dishes in Massachusetts, jiggled chandeliers in Southern California and struck with more intensity in the Southwest Pacific during the past 24 hours.

Four quakes, one of them strong enough to shake the upper stories of buildings and set a chandelier swinging in the Santa Ana courtroom where the Overell murder trial was in session, were recorded in the Los Angeles area. The first, centered about 150 miles from Los Angeles, was recorded at 1:54 a. m., PST, yesterday. The second and strongest came more than 12 hours later at 2:12 p. m. A 2:54

FIGHT TO BRING VOTE INQUIRY LOST BY G.O.P.

Concedes Probe Into Clark's Handling of Kansas City Fraud Beaten.

BULLETIN

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 25—Senator Barkley (D-Ky) the minority leader, today blocked a renewed attempt to bring up the Kem resolution to investigate Attorney General Clark's conduct in the Kansas City vote fraud cases—a controversy that kept the senate in session all night.

* * *

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 25 — A hectic 18-hour and 12-minute senate session ended at sunrise today with Republican leaders conceding defeat in their demands for an investigation into Attorney General Clark's handling of Kansas City vote fraud charges.

Determined to carry out their plans to adjourn congress for the year tomorrow night, G.O.P. chieftains bowed before unbending Democratic opposition.

The decision to quit until noon came at 6:12 a. m.

The Republicans hours before had won a battle but obviously lost the war in their effort to force the inquiry.

They battered down a Democratic attempt to postpone formally until January any decision on the resolution by Senator Kem (R-Mo) demanding the Clark investigation.

Debate Lasts All Night

But the bitter debate drugged on through the night.

Then, shortly after daybreak, the Republican leadership agreed to lay aside the Kem matter long enough to take up one of several appropriation bills that must be passed before congress can quit for the year tomorrow night, as planned.

That measure, carrying funds for the Greek-Turkish aid program and foreign relief, was discussed only 20 minutes, however, when the weary lawmakers decided to call it quits so members could get a few hours sleep.

The earlier Republican victory on the Kem proposal was on a straight party-line vote of 45 to 30.

But it was a hollow victory.

Concedes Defeat

After the chamber had been in session nearly 17 hours, Senator Wherry of Nebraska, the Rpublican whip, conceded on the floor that G. O. P. forces would be unable to press the matter to a final vote this session.

At 5:42 a. m., the senate agreed to lay aside the Kem proposal temporarily to take up one of the fund bills. It carries money for the Greek-Turkish aid program and foreign relief.

By agreement, Senator McCarran (D-Nev.) preserved his right to continue speaking in opposition to the vote inquiry resolution, if it is brought up again.

Although it technically remained the unfinished business of the senate, Senator Taft (R-Ohio) outlined a program of other legislation which left little room for its further consideration.

The G. O. P. strategy through the early morning hours obviously was designed to try to demonstrate to the country that the Democrats had avoided a showdown on the investigation issue.

Taft made repeated attempts to gain agreement for a time to vote on the pending proposal to take up the Kem resolution. But each time Senator McCarran (D-Nev.) objected.

SOLONS BARRED FROM RUSSIA

Washington Fur Flies as Soviets Refuse To Let Party Tour U.S.S.R.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 25—Moscow's "no" to a Russian visit by three American lawmakers rubbed raw today a new point of irritation between congress and the Soviet Union.

The turn down produced:

▶A proposal that hundreds, maybe thousands, of Russians be expelled from the United States.

▶A curt letter to Soviet Ambassador Nikolai V. Novikov about "diplomatic deterrents."

▶Complete junking of plans for the trip.

▶A rise in congressional temperatures, especially that of Rep. Kersten (R-Wis.).

Kersten is chairman of a three-man house labor subcommittee which was supposed to go to Russia in September to study education and labor to determine the amount of freedom allowed students, teachers and workers.

Issued Passports

The state department issued passports to Kersten and Reps. Owens (R-Ill.) and Kennedy (D-Mass.).

But Moscow refused visas.

The reason, Kersten was told in a letter from Yuri M. Brusilov, chief of the consular division of the Soviet embassy:

"Lack of hotel accommodations and some other shortages, both in Moscow and in the big educational and industrial centers, caused by the war."

As a result, the letter said, "trips of foreign tourists are not yet possible for the time being."

Kersten got off a letter yesterday to Secretary of State Mar-

Congress Drives for Flood Control Bill Compromise

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 25—Congressional conferees scheduled a hurried meeting today hoping to settle by tomorrow's adjournment deadline differences over a fund for flood control, navigation, hydroelectric and other water projects.

Overriding a Republican demand for a $100,000,000 slash, the senate approved a $452,000,000 bill by a roll call vote of 78 to 5 last night. This is $200,000,000 more than the house-approved sum.

A conference committee was named immediately and Senator Gurney (R-SD) predicted an agreement in time for final action before tomorrow night.

Economy demands prevented expected quick passage of the bill by the senate.

Reject Proposal

Before passing the big money bill by a lop-sided vote, the senate rejected 67 to 15 a proposal by Senator Dworshak (R-Idaho) to direct the conferees to cut the appropriation, which he described as out of line with the Republican program.

He was backed up by Chairman Bridges (R-NH) of the senate appropriations committee and other Republicans. Absent from the chamber because of illness, Bridges telegraphed Senator Taft (R-Ohio) that he could not "in good conscience support the bill."

"The excessive appropriations are completely inconsistent with sound government economy, the announced sound economy program of the Republican party, and are not in the best interests of the country as a whole," Bridges' message said.

The President had recommended $250,000,000 for flood control in addition to the sum voted by the house.

Taft also spoke for curtailed government spending and suggested that the country's economists believed that "we should hold public works to a minimum when we have a general business activity in the United States."

Supports Passage

The Ohioan voted to reduce the appropriation but he supported passage.

Minority Leader Barkley (D-Ky) led the defense against efforts to trim the fund. He recalled that a 1936 law made flood control a federal responsibility and suggested that construction of authorized projects is a national obligation.

"Since substantially no flood control work was done during the war," Barkley said, "we are justified in resuming this program now and thereby consummate a contract with the American people."

Senator McClellan (D-Ark) said that spending for water projects "is an investment that more than pays dividends in lives saved and damage prevented."

"Something must be done," he said, "to prevent recurrence of disastrous floods in our great river basins."

War Over, Truman Says, Respecting Vet Benefits

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 25 — President Truman today declared the war over, insofar as veterans' benefits and a batch of other war and emergency statutes are concerned.

The Chief executive signed a senate joint resolution making inoperative some 175 laws whose effect was based on the states of war and emergency.

But he said some other extraordinary powers must be retained for a time, and announced that he has asked Attorney General Clark to continue his studies on the ending of the remaining war statutes.

In interpreting the 175 acts, the resolution says, the proclamations of World War II, the limited emergency and the unlimited emergency "shall be construed as terminated and peace established."

It is therefore T-day— termination-of-war day—for about 16,000,000 war veterans and servicemen.

It marks the beginning of the end of the educational, unemployment and loan-guarantee benefits of the GI bill of rights.

House Group O.K.'s Arms Training Bill

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 25—The house armed services committee today approved a universal military training bill by a vote of 20 to 0.

Chairman Walter C. Andrews (R-NY) told reporters immediately that there is no intention of bringing the bill to a house vote this year. He said the committee action is intended solely to get a bill before congress. The bill, drafted by a subcommittee, goes on the house calendar and will be ready for consideration early next year.

THROWS HAT IN RING

By The Associated Press

MILLERSBURG, O., July 25—Robert S. Cox of Millersburg yesterday announced his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for governor. Cox, who won party nominations for lieutenant governor in 1940 and state treasurer in 1942 but lost out in general elections, said he was resigning as state manager of the Modern Woodmen of America to devote full time to his campaign.

HOG PRICES STILL ON UPWARD TREND

Up Nearly $4 Since Start of Advance July 3.

Market price boosts of from seventy-five cents to a dollar and a half today for top grade hogs selling at $28.75, feature a rising market for hogs, it was reported today by R. T. Bradley, manager of the Marion livestock producers association.

Top grade hogs are up nearly $4 since July 3 when the market price began a steady rise from $25. The producers association records show that on July 11 the market price had risen to $25.75; on July 14, $26.25; July 21, $27.75 and yesterday, $28.75.

Good roughs and stags are up $1.50 over yesterday's market price. Others show gains of 75 cents, $1 and $1.25, marking the continuation of the most rapid rise in the market since ceilings were lifted about a year ago, Mr. Bradley stated.

Two reasons for the sudden jump in the hog market are given by Mrs. Bradley. First, there is a general scarcity of hogs as compared to the customary normal demands on the market. Secondly, and especially true of this locality, farmers this week have been working with wheat harvest and hay making, with the result that few hogs are being marketed.

Receipts this week are down about 50 per cent, Mr. Bradley said, adding that the situation is general all over the country at the present time.

THREE ESCAPE JAIL

By International News Service

YOUNGSTOWN, July 25 — Northeast Ohio law enforcement authorities were alerted today to be on the lookout for three prisoners who escaped late last night from the Mahoning county jail in Youngstown. Two had been convicted as habitual criminals.

TIME FIXED AT 8 MONTHS TO TWO YEARS

Ex-Congressman Declares "I Never Took a Dime;" To Appeal Case.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 25 — Ex-Congressman Andrew J. May was sentenced today to a term of from eight months to two years in prison on charges of accepting $53,634.07 in bribes while he was wartime chairman of the house military affairs committee.

The two men accused of paying May the bribes — munitions makers Murray and Henry Garsson — also were given prison terms with a minimum of eight months and a maximum of two years.

The maximum penalty that could have been imposed on each by Judge Henry A. Schweinhaut was six years in prison and a fine of $30,000.

Sentencing Delayed

The sentencing was delayed for more than two hours while the defendants' lawyers pleaded for a new trial and May beseeched the court for mercy.

The 72-year-old former Kentucky Democratic congressman insisted that he had never taken "a single dime" dishonestly during his long service in congress.

He told Schweinhaut:

"I stand before the court today with a clear, clean conscience. I never violated a law as far as I know in the 72 years of my life.

"I never received a dollar directly or indirectly that was not honestly earned or justly due."

Convicted July 3

May was convicted July 3 after an 11-week-long trial of accepting $53,634.07 in bribes from munitions makers Murray and Henry Garsson. The Garsson brothers were found guilty of giving the bribes for favors and, like May, came into court to hear their penalty.

But May told Judge Schweinhaut:

"I never got a single dime from the Garssons or anybody else.

"I never did a thing in congress that today vexes my conscience.

"I stand here today on the mercy of the court. If I go to jail my grandchildren will drop out of college.

"Regardless of what has been said in the malicious press * * * I'm not guilty."

To Appeal Case

Defense attorneys, who have said they will carry the case to the supreme court if necessary, pleaded for a new trial and praised May and the Garssons before May addressed the court.

Among the reasons cited by the lawyers for a new trial was the contention that the jurors had listened to radio descriptions of the trial and read newspapers before reaching their verdict.

Charles J. Margiotti, head of the Garsson defense counsel declared this had prejudiced his clients' case because the press and radio reports had been prejudiced.

May and the Garssons previously had protested their innocence and their lawyers had claimed their convictions were "unfair" and the result of "prejudice."

COUNTY ROAD JOBS GIVEN FEDERAL O.K.

Contract Letting Scheduled for Aug. 26.

Plans have been made by the state highway department to let contract Aug. 26 for reconstruction of two sections of road in Marion county, Walter Johnson, county engineer, announced today. Plans, specifications and estimates for the reconstruction work have been returned by the federal roads administration, which approved them as part of the postwar road program. While approval of the plans was given, the federal agency increased the engineer's estimate on cost of the project.

Roads to be improved are about two miles of county road 94 northwest of Marion known as the Hillman-Ford road, and three miles of county road 17, the La-Rue-DeCliff road. Construction will consist of macadam base with asphalt covering.

The county commissioners Thursday authorized County Auditor Harry Mounts to issue checks to the state highway department for the county's half of the estimate, $21,000 on road 94 and $31,000 road 17.

First Erie Diesel Passenger Engine To Go Into Service Monday; Schedule Exhibition Run

The first of a fleet of seven three-unit 4,500-horsepower diesel-electric passenger locomotives will go into service on the Erie railroad next Monday, R. E. Woodruff, president, announced at the Erie's general offices in Cleveland today.

The remainder of the engines now on order will be delivered within 10 days at which time all Erie through-line passenger carrying trains will be diesel powered between Jersey City and Chicago.

At the same time announcement was made that the railroad is planning an exhibition train to start next week showing the latest type passenger cars which will be used with these diesel locomotives. The first appearance of the train will be at Lima on Friday, Aug. 1, and will be on display in approximately 25 other cities east to Jersey City during the succeeding six days. The public is being invited to inspect the train and go through the diesel, including the engineer's cab, and the air-conditioned coach, diner and pullman which will make up the train.

In Marion at 12:30 P. M.

The train is scheduled to leave Lima at 11 a. m. Friday, Aug. 1, and will be on display in Marion from 12:30 to 2 p. m. at the freight house on West Center street. Its next stop will be Galion where it will be on display on South street opposite the freight house from 3 to 4 p. m.

"The inauguration of diesel locomotives on our passenger trains will be a big forward step in train travel for the communities along the Erie Railroad", Woodruff said. "The Erie wants the people along the line to have an opportunity of inspecting the new equipment which is being placed in service for their use."

For the time being the schedules of Erie trains will not be changed, but a partial reduction in running time will be made on Aug. 17. With the Sept. 28, time-table changes, schedules will be shortened by about two hours between Jersey City and Chicago over the present schedule.

Diesel Black and Yellow

A headliner of the exhibition train will be the smartly painted diesel locomotive (black with yellow design) which is 151 feet long and built in three units. In each of the units is a powerful 1,500 horsepower diesel motor similar to the type used on the Navy's famous LST boats during the war. The diesel motors generate the electricity for the traction motors which turn the driving wheels.

The engineer sits in a comfortable leather upholstered chair in the very nose of the locomotive and has instant control over its operation at all times. The windshield of the cab is similar to that on an automobile and is equipped with sun visors, windshield wipers and no-draft ventilation. Sound proofing eliminates motor noises and permits conver-

Plans Pressed by Fair Board For Annual Display Aug. 17-22

Good weather or bad, preparations are under way for the annual Marion county fair, with all the features of the rural exhibition which highlights farm activities of the county each year. This year's fair, the ninety-seventh, will be held Aug. 17 to 22, inclusive. Arrangements to date show promise of more exhibits and entertainment features than ever before, H. A. Mayers, secretary of the fair board, has announced. Premium lists for the fair have already been published.

Among new features this year will be District Jersey club, 4-H and F.F.A. Jersey show, expected to bring about 200 head of cattle to the fairgrounds.

Grounds Improved

Over $21,000 has been spent this year on improvements at the fairgrounds, Mr. Mayers pointed out. Nearing completion and expected to be ready for the fair is a new junior fair building which will include a show ring and space for displaying cattle. The building, 70 by 120 feet in area, is located north of the grandstand. It is constructed of concrete block.

Another addition to livestock exhibition space is a 40 by 100-foot Quonset hut for housing livestock. Black top has been applied to the area under the grandstand, and the space immediately surrounding it. All but 600 feet of a new steel fence is in place. The new fence will surround the entire fairgrounds when complete.

Another new feature will be a general livestock judging contest for young people under 21 years. A trophy will be awarded to the winner.

Junior Fair

As in other years one of the major attractions of the fair will be the junior fair. A special part of the junior fair wil be a Jersey heifer show sponsored by the Marion Jersey Cattle club. Plans are being made for a float contest with entries by 4-H, F.F.A., and home economics groups. Floats will be displayed in the annual junior fair parade. Winners of the annual gilt contest sponsored by the Marion Chamber of Commerce will be chosen during the fair.

Also on the program is a Spotted Poland China show with both senior and junior divisions.

There will be harness races this year the nights of Aug. 19 and 20, afternoon and night Aug. 21 and afternoon of Aug. 22.

Special entertainment will include the Jimmy Lynch Death Dodgers thrill show, Carl and Ruth Thompson's White Horse show and the Duke of Paducah, radio entertainer.

The United States now has plant capacity to produce more than a million long tons of synthetic rubber annually.

M'GREGOR DEFEATED IN BATTLE OVER DAM

Congressman Loses Fight To Knock Out Dillon Project.

Approval by a senate subcommittee of an additional $2,000,000 appropriation for Dillon flood control dam near Zanesville marked the virtual defeat of Rep. J. Harry McGregor of the Seventeenth Congressional district, in his fight to cancel authorization of the project designed to protect Zanesville and the lower Muskingum valley from Licking river floods. He had sponsored a measure providing for the cancellation.

The subcommittee failed to act on McGregor's proposed legislation, and adjourned sine die. With the adjournment of congress scheduled Saturday, the subcommittee's failure to consider the measure results in death of the proposal.

McGregor had been waging war against the Dillon project while approving expenditures for Delaware dam in his own district. While he approved the Delaware project on grounds that it was necessary as a flood control measure, he had tried to defeat the Dillon project by seeking both deauthorization and stoppage of railroad relocation work.

McGregor argued the Dillon project, estimated to cost $13,000,000 when complete, will cost much more than that figure. However, the Delaware dam for which he approved additional appropriations has already passed the figure originally considered necessary for its completion.

It was reported in Washington that McGregor was unable to obtain the votes of more than two subcommittee members for his measure.

Kenton Man Burned On Hands and Face

KENTON, July 25—Price J. Bailey received severe burns on his hands and arms and minor burns on his face yesterday as a result of an explosion at the Champion Equipment Co. where he is employed.

He was taken to the McKilrick hospital where he is a patient and was reported in fair condition. His hands and arms from the wrists to elbows are being treated for second degree burns.

REV. DENNIS MATHERLEE

Marion Minister Will Leave Pulpit

Rev. Dennis Matherlee, who has been pastor of First Wesleyan Methodist church the last two years, will conduct a farewell service at the church tomorrow at 7:30 p. m. He resigned his pastorate here some time ago to become effective at the convening of the denomination's conference at the Victory camp ground near Westerville Monday. His plans for the future are to enter full time evangelistic work with headquarters at Findlay where he will move with his family the first part of August. He will be in Marion for one more Sunday after tomorrow, Aug. 4, but explained that he will hold the farewell service now because of the absence of many of the congregation next month while attending camp meeting. He expects to receive his general evangelistic appointment at the conference. At various times he had done part time evangelistic work along with his pastoral assignments.

Rev. Eldon Martin, for six years pastor at Comersville, will be Rev. Matherlee's successor, moving with Mrs. Martin and their three children here. Rev. and Mrs. Matherlee have three children, Dorothy, 16, Doris, 15, and Thomas, 12.

Death Ends Colorful Career of Hardin County Former Big League Ballplayer

KENTON, July 25 — Death which yesterday claimed Ray C. (Brandy) Lingrel of Mt. Victory brought to a close the life of one of the more prominent amateur and professional baseball players in this section of Ohio.

In this field, Brandy had become eminent. He pitched for the Philadelphia National league team for a short time and spent a number of years with Milwaukee and Kansas City in the American Association. He broke into baseball with the Lexington, Ky. nine and finished his career with the Portland team of the Pacific Coast league. There, an injury to his pitching arm diminished the effectiveness of his game.

Every effort was made to restore the arm to full usefulness and he did regain the use of the arm in every way except that the more delicate control required in top-rank pitching did not return. His great promise in the baseball profession therefore was never fully realized. He retired from baseball 20 years ago.

Funeral services will be held 2 p. m. Sunday at the Price funeral home with Rev. H. E. Pfister officiating with burial in Grove cemetery. The body was taken to the Price funeral home in Kenton today.

GRANGERS CONFER 6TH DEGREE AT MARYSVILLE

1,000 Candidates Swamp Local High School Auditorium.

Special to The Star

MARYSVILLE, July 25—More than 1,000 Grange members from seven counties gathered at the high school here Wednesday night to receive the sixth degree of the Grange conferred by Joseph Fichter, Columbus, state master, and a staff of other state Grange officials.

The degree work was held in two sections as the high school auditorium would not accommodate the large number of candidates, the first group receiving the degree in ceremonies starting at 8 p. m.

Approximately 100 Marion county grange members received the degree with Deputy Master Elmer Williams of Marion county, and Mrs. Williams, taking part in the degree work. Other canidates were from Hardin, Delaware, Madison, Logan, Champaign and Franklin counties.

The meeting was one of 15 to be held in the state in preparation for the national Grange at Columbus in November when the seventh degree will be conferred.

Electrical Workers Love Wives So Reds Take Over Their Union

By FREDERICK C. OTHMAN
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, July 23—The wonder was that the General ... at Bridgeport, Conn., turned out any self-heating blan... bruised and battered was the help.

The ... was Communists. Almost every time Local 203 of ... Electrical Workers ... it ended in a riot. ... busted chairs, smashed ... the works. The mem... who didn't take to ... would limp to work ... day and automatic ... production suffered badly. ... elle, the union's busi... and Mike Berescik, its ... faced the facts bravely ... testimony before the house committee on un-American activities. One of these facts involved love.

Mike said many of the 8,000 members were afraid to attend union meetings because they never knew whether they'd leave the hall in one piece. And Joe said . . . but let's have his own words:

"You get the average American worker who loves his wife and has his friends and he doesn't want to spend all Sunday afternoon and Sunday night at a union meeting. He doesn't take much interest in union politics."

Communism Rears Ugly Head

So it was, they agreed, that a smidgen of Communism gained control of the union. The intensely serious Mike in his tweed sports jacket and the sober-sided Joe (who was a little older and grayer) said they added up the names of the Communists—26 all told—and give 'em the heave-ho.

These included a Miss Cleopatria Daniels, a Mrs. Cornelius McGillicuddy and in particular, a Mrs. Josephine Willard, who had campaigned for a seat in the Connecticut legislature on the Communist ticket.

"Where are these people now?" inquired Chairman J. Parnell Thomas of N. J., the reddest faced man in congress.

"Oh, they're still working for General Electric," Joe said.

Expelled, Promoted

"Take Josephine. After we expelled her she was promoted to be an inspector in the electric blanket division. She got a better job since it came out she was a Communist."

Joe paused a minute to think over how this statement might look in print. Then he blurted: "But I don't think the management promoted her just because she was a Communist; she probably was a good worker."

After the Communist purge by Mike and Joe, they said, peace reigned in Local 203, except that the international union kept trying to expel all 6,000 members. This indicated to the witnesses that Communists dominated the United Electrical Radio and Machine Workers of America.

"And there are several leaders of this union here in this room this minute and I hope they take in every word I say," Joe shouted. A number of huskies minus neckties in the second row glared at him, but said nothing.

Joe added that the Communists did their dead-levelest to get him to join and even sent him a subscription to the Daily Worker, the Communist newspaper.

"I had a hell of a time getting rid of that rag," Joe added. "But I believe now I was unwise. I think I ought to read it to see what the Commies are up to next."

"Indeed you should," interrupted Rep. John McDowell of Pa. "I have to have the Daily Worker myself every morning, just like coffee."

Pretty soon the meeting ended and everybody drifted into the hall where, I am happy to report, there was no riot. Probably because of too many capitol cops.

Self Diagnosis

Putting two and two together to get five seems to be a natural human trait. Most people cannot resist it, particularly when it comes to self-diagnosis. They have learned of an ailment which may cause certain symptoms; then they experience one or two similar symptoms and immediately jump to the conclusion that their disorder is the one they have read about. Nine times out of ten they are wrong.

For instance, most patients who have pain around the lower opening of the bowel are convinced that they are suffering from hemorrhoids or piles. And yet there are several other causes for pain in this area, and the most common is not hemorrhoids at all, but what is known as a fissure.

A fissure of the rectum is a crack in the lining membrane near the opening of the bowel or anus. The pain comes on with bowel movements and may last for several hours. It is usually relieved by rest, but is made worse by exercise. It then recurs when the patient has another bowel movement.

There are several types of fissure. Some are acute, that is, they have been present for a long period of time, and may be the result of constipation, straining during bowel movements, or may appear after delivery of a baby.

Diagnosis is made by the examination of the area.

According to Dr. Peter G. McEvedy, of Manchester, England, the treatment includes the giving of enough mineral oil to keep the bowel movement soft. Some type of ointment, such as zinc ointment, may be applied before the bowel movement. After the bowel movement, the area is washed, and the ointment again applied.

If the pain is severe, it is suggested that a local anesthetic or pain-deadening substance be injected into the area. In the majority of cases, with this treatment, healing occurs quickly. If the treatment does not produce a cure, an operation may be required.

Chronic fissues are those which have been present for a long time and, usually, they are associated with hemorrhoids or piles. In such cases, an operation, including removal of the piles, is required for cure.

If there are no piles present, a simple operation, according to Dr. McEvedy, may be carried out, and the patient may return home at once. Zinc ointment is applied before the movement. Afterwards the area is washed and an antiseptic dressing or an ointment is applied. These measures are carried out until healing occurs.

Rectal fissures are not serious but may be responsible for a great deal of pain and should not be neglected.

Galion V. F. W. To Have New Building

Special to The Star

GALION, July 25 — A new home will be erected by Galion Post 4329 Veterans of Foreign Wars on route 30-S east of the city. The site purchased from William Pry is 100 by 150 feet, and the two story cement block building, when completed, will have the club rooms, grill, lockers and storage on the first floor and lodge room and dance hall on the second floor.

The contract for the building was let to Mr. Pry who is a building contractor, and construction will begin at once. The building committee consists of Glenard Walnum, post commander, Robert Quinn, Robert Bianchi and E. A. Hocker.

Plans have been completed to attend the national encampment in Cleveland in September. The Galion delegation will be accompanied by the rifle squad and colors.

WYANDOT SCHOOLS GET STATE AID HIKE

County Gets $23,000 Under Daniels-Cramer Bill.

Special to The Star

UPPER SANDUSKY, July 24—The 10 public schools of the Wyandot county system will receive $23,000 more in the second half of the current year than they did in the first half, said county superintendent Ralph Broede today, as a result of the recently passed grants allowed under the much debated Daniels-Cramer bill passed by the Ohio legislature. Grants to the 10 schools totaled $55,609.27 in the first half. For the second half they will receive $78,627.98.

These increased grants assure teachers of the system's schools an increase in salary for the coming school year. The amount in each case is to be determined by the district boards according to the experience of the teacher and the ability of the school to pay. The salary schedules range from $1700 to $2000 for elementary teachers, and from $1800 to $3000 for high school instructors.

Vacancies in the system were reduced to 14 yesterday with the signing of the Rev. Mahlon D. Wenger of Findlay by the Eden board of education. Rev. Wenger is now completing his work for a degree in education at Findlay college. He will teach English, history and social science.

The list of superintendents was completed with the hiring of Luther B. Lust for the Nevada school. Other superintendents were rehired. Vacancies still exist at seven of the schools. They are: at Harpster, music and English, mathematics and history; at McCutchenville, physical education and social science; business education and music; at Marseilles, vocational agriculture, home economics and history, music and English; at Mifflin-Kirby, grades three and four, grades five and six; at Nevada, home economics; at Salem, grades three and four; grades five and six; at Sycamore, physical education and science.

Superintendent Broede added there will be an enrollment of 1,650 pupils in the ten schools when the fall term opens on Sept. 2.

HARDIN BEET WORKERS SEEK WORK ELSEWHERE

Mexican Laborers Go To Fruit Harvest, Find Jobs.

Special to The Star

KENTON, July 25 — Considerable shifting of Mexican laborers usually busy in the sugar beet fields at this time of the year, has been caused by the lateness of the season here due to rains. Others have found employment and will be here when the beet work is ready.

Some families have ranged as far as the cherry harvest in Wisconsin and Minnesota. A few of these are expected to return to Hardin county to help with the sugar beets.

WEDDING ANNOUNCED

UPPER SANDUSKY, July 24—The recent marriage of Miss Nancy Lee Hagenmaier, to Mr. Floyd A. Smith, of Tiffin, was announced by the bride's mother, Mrs. Adam Hagenmaier, at a luncheon given Tuesday. The bride is a graduate of the Upper Sandusky high school, class of 1946. For the past year she has been employed as clerk at the First Citizens National bank here. The bridegroom is a graduate of Calvert high school in Tiffin. He served three years in the armed forces and is associated with his father in the Smith Food Market at Tiffin.

Truman Ducks On Credit Move

Tells Newsman He Didn't Promise To Remove Limits If Congress Balked.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 25—President Truman said yesterday he has not promised to remove controls over installment buying in event congress does not approve their extension.

He has only promised to take action, he said at a news conference when asked about his plans.

These controls were imposed originally during the war by a presidential order. They require at least a one-third down payment when an automobile, a refrigerator and some other articles are purchased on the installment plan.

Mr. Truman recently sent congress a message saying he thought the controls should be continued, but felt that was a matter for congress. At that time, he said, he would take action if congress did not vote to continue them.

Congress Deadlocked

His phrase was generally interpreted at the time as meaning he would remove the controls if congress did not vote to extend them. The senate has voted for a modified continuation, but the house has opposed.

But when reporters brought up the subject, Mr. Truman carefully pointed out that he had said he would take action. He said that is an entirely different thing.

The questioning went on:

"Have you given much consideration to Secretary (of Agriculture) Anderson's proposal for a world trade organization whereby the government would do their purchasing for grain and supplies for the Marshall plan?"

Mr. Truman replied that is under consideration.

Can't Help Immigrants

Asked if there is any administrative action he can take to permit entry into the United States of some of Europe's displaced persons, Mr. Truman said no such action is possible. If it were, he said, he would have acted long ago.

In response to other questions: The President said he had heard nothing about a report that former Senator James M. Mead of New York will succeed Robert E. Tannegan, as chairman of the Democratic national committee.

He made the same reply as to published reports that Navy Secretary Forrestal will become secretary of defense under the armed services unification, about to receive final congressional sanction. He said he will announce the over-all head when he makes a decision.

He repeated that he still has made no definite plans to visit Brazil.

Street Light Poles Get Coat of Paint

Metal street light poles in the downtown area are getting their first coat of paint since before the war. Workmen of the Union Line Clearance Co. of Lorain started this week to give the posts a coat of forest green which is lighter than the shade which they were painted before. As painters work on the poles other workers wash the light globes.

The work will be completed as weather permits, Harold J. Grigsby, general manager of the Marion division of the Ohio Public Service Co., said. Painting of the poles is part of a general maintenance program of the company which was curtailed during the war years, according to Mr. Grigsby.

50 Newsmen To Cover G.O.P. Confab, July 31

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., July 25—More than 50 newspaper and radiomen will "cover" the politically potent Ohio Republican rally here July 31 at which Sen. Robert A. Taft will speak, state G.O.P. headquarters reported yesterday.

A 250-station nationwide network will carry the 30-minute address of Taft, potential candidate for the party presidential nomination.

His senate colleague, former Gov. John W. Bricker, 1944 G.O.P. vice presidential nominee and current "dark horse" presidential possibility; Gov. Thomas J. Herbert and State Chairman Fred Johnson will share the program.

FIELD ASKS TO BUY 2ND CHICAGO PAPER

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, July 25—Marshall Field, publisher and editor of the Chicago Sun, announcing a plan for the "expansion of my Chicago newspaper interests," has offered to purchase the Chicago Daily Times, afternoon tabloid and proposed to pay $60 a share for the stock or a total of $5,238,620.

Richard J. Finnegan, Times publisher, said he and two of his associates have accepted Field's offer but the proposal is to be submitted to stockholders. He said there were 88,977 shares of Times' stock outstanding and "Mr. Field will buy all shares that are offered to him."

Finnegan said Field had stipulated that "at least" 65,500 shares, approximately 75 per cent of the total, "should respond favorably by Aug. 25, unless the time is extended."

Field's announcement said his plans would be to publish the Times in the afternoon, the Sun in the morning and a Sun-Times on Sunday. All editions would be in tabloid size. Presently both papers publish Sunday editions. The Sun is a standard size newspaper.

Field, who also is publisher of the New York tabloid PM, said he would remain as publisher-editor of the Sun and Finnegan in a similar position at the Times. In addition, Finnegan would become executive vice president of the Sun.

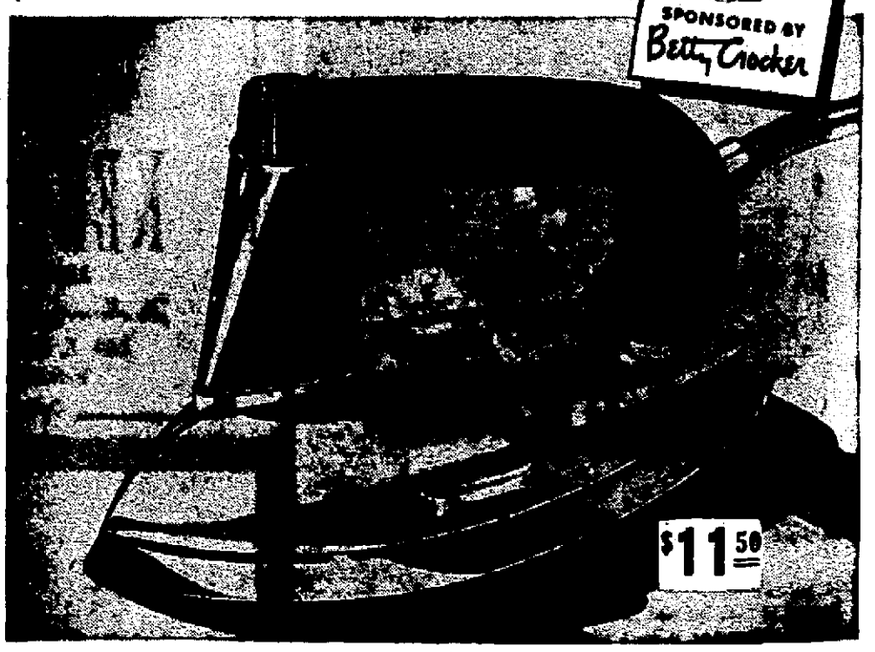
It's Here! The New General Mills Tru-Heat Iron
SPONSORED BY Betty Crocker



HERE'S THE IRON to make every ironing day shorter—to make all your ironing easier. It has new, safe, accurate Tru-Heat Control to speed ironing and protect delicate fabrics. Its new Safety Side Rest takes the "muscle" out of ironing. The new 4-Way, Full-Vue Ironing Surface is longer, larger, to cover more ironing at every stroke, yet the iron weighs only 3¾ pounds. See this new General Mills Tru-Heat Iron now... and let next ironing day prove to you how practical and usable all its new advantages really are!

COVERS MORE IRONING at every stroke! The longer, larger soleplate is tapered in back to reach into tricky places. Button Saver Edge is slanted all around—any part slides easily under buttons without loosening threads.

RESTS ON ITS SIDE. The iron stays put on its low Safety Side Rest with little danger of tipping or falling. Actually takes 15% less effort to roll it to rest on its side than to lift an iron to a heel rest or separate stand.

THE SURFACE THAT IRONS THE FABRIC is actually part of the Tru-Heat Control, the most accurate known type of iron heat regulator. No time-wasting drops in temperature—no dangerous overheating to harm fabrics.

Unifying the Services

SENATE and house agreement on the final draft of the armed forces unification bill virtually assures completion of one of the major tasks of this congressional session. When the senate conferees agreed to a Navy air arm and continuation of the Marine Corps amphibious force, the last disputed points were reconciled.

The measure doesn't approximate what Army men envisioned two years ago when they first broached unification. The term then was "merger" and it caused explosive comment in wardrooms and flag officers' quarters from Annapolis to the remotest Pacific atoll. With overt objections forbidden until recently by presidential order, Navy men brought their weight to bear in subtler ways. They have been eminently successful.

The bill is only a start, a framework upon which to build. The internal structure of the armed forces isn't disturbed, except that the air corps is made a separate arm. Over all there is a new level of command, which must be headed by a civilian, in accordance with a provision made by Representative Brown of Ohio. He will have to be a diplomat of rare tact to reconcile the differences when the consolidations and the economies begin, when Army brass and Navy brass begin to quibble over who does what.

The sailors, soldiers and civilians of the national defense establishment will have to learn how to operate it as they go along. Its success can bring about a tremendous increase in efficiency of the armed services and can save millions of dollars. Ask any serviceman who has seen a million dollars worth of equipment deteriorating in a supply depot because its transfer from one service to another was bogged down in red tape.

Park the Shootin' Irons

CONGRESSIONAL jitters about gun-toting visitors in the capitol should be soothed with a sign over the entrance—"Park the Shootin' Irons Here or Pay $25 for Hunting License."

If congressmen will overlook the slur, no one would pay $25 for a shot at them. This has had heavy bearing on the American way of doing things. It has robbed U. S. legislators of the illusion that they were more than they are—temporary spokesmen for their constituents and easily replaceable.

It has given congressmen freedom of thought and action. They have had no persecution complex, with certain notable exceptions. They have had no excuse to make themselves inaccessible. The fact is now—and has been since congress began—that no one wants to shoot at congressmen except in the sense of pelting them with criticism. If they feel a closed season is needed, that sign over the entrance would make them as hunt-proof as animals in a zoo.

Clinical Report

TEN New York models, asked to pick the composite of a perfect man, decided on President Truman's bow tie, Franklin D. Roosevelt's resolute jaw, football star Glenn Davis' manly shoulders, Gary Cooper's ease of posture, Cary Grant's deep-cleft chin, Tyrone Power's teeth, Robert Taylor's nose and Clark Gable's "devilish dimples."

If the press agent who thought this one up will stand aside, we'll use these points in preparing a clinical report on Fred J. Breadwinner, average American male (homo Americauus).

The tie is a 1945 model, Christmas gift vintage. The jaw isn't particularly resolute, its outstanding characteristics being a tendency to acquire 5 o'clock shadow by 4:30. The shoulders look reasonably manly, thanks to ample reinforcements of padding in the coat of his $44.50 two-pants ensemble. His ease of posture is deceptive; it's just that the trousers, slightly baggy at the knees, make him look relaxed. He has the deep-cleft chin, all right, but it's the result of a boyhood misadventure with an ax. As for nose and teeth, he has them just like Taylor and Power. And as for devilish dimples, he doesn't have them, but when he reads about the attributes of the ideal American male, he can summon up a cute little sneer that makes him look positively satanic.

Minority Report

IT IS a gloomy picture Gen. Robert E. Wood, President of Sears, Roebuck & Co., has painted for the top-level joint congressional committee on the economic report. Europe, he says, is through, finished like a worked-out mine.

He says the money we are pouring in is just delaying the inevitable collapse, and he believes the only hope is for 40,000,000 in western Europe to migrate.

A substantial segment of Americans believe Gen. Wood is 100 per cent wrong. They believe Europe would indeed be through if we turned from it now, like a neighbor pulling down the blinds when his neighbor's house catches fire.

But they believe it can be saved by our help now, for they know Europe cannot be surrendered to the tender ministrations of the Communist police state without profound repercussions throughout the world. If Americans have learned one thing since 1939, it is that, as Edna Millay says, "There are no islands any more."

News Behind the News

By PAUL MALLON

Revival of Old Fight Over Isolation Seen as Harmful.

WASHINGTON, July 25—Certain powerful forces seem to be at work to revive old bitterness between internationalists and isolationists. You have seen it creeping into the news. If it is successful, it no doubt will destroy unity on American foreign policy, and thus hardly serve the best interests of the United States at home or abroad.

The movement, of course, is wholly unrealistic. Actually, the thinking people on both sides are so close together in what they want to do, there is little ground left between them to fight over, certainly not enough to warrant losing foreign policy unity.

For instance, a rather full economic plan for international policy was laid forth by Gen. R. E. Wood of Sears Roebuck to the congressional economic committee. It was not reported fully enough to be understood. The board chairman of one of the nation's largest merchandising units is rated as an isolationist, but his experience and position is as a merchandiser. He knows how to make or sell every consumer item except food and automobiles profitably or he would not be where he is. From that standpoint, he obviously set forth his plan, for there is nothing isolationist in it.

Prophets Always Wrong

The economic prophets, says Wood, are always wrong. They thought there would be a depression after V-J day, predicting 7 to 9 million unemployed. But we have only voluntary unemployment today, (the word "voluntary" is of his coinage). They are probably as wrong today. The prophets overlooked agriculture. Wood sells to agriculture through 600 stores. Since the close of the war, he says, the farmers have had the highest income in all history, and reserves of over 22 billion in cash and government bonds. There has been no decline in productivity of agriculture.

A decline in farm prices might come if we stopped feeding Europe, but the increase in our population of 40 millions from 1920 to 1950, plus the fact that people are consuming more food, shows clearly our farm prices are not tied to Europe's needs to any critical extent. This comes from a man whose company lives largely from farm income and therefore must be believed.

Wood wants to feed Europe but not invest America there. You can hardly consider it surprising that an American business man does not consider Europe a good investment. He thinks England, Belgium and Holland are overpopulated; that their people should emigrate; that western Europe has forfeited by failure its place as the testing economic ground for world trends. Whatever we give them, he says, we should not expect to get back. But there is a good place abroad for American investment. He mentioned "the youth and growing countries of South and Central America and Canada." Loans to them "if properly applied," he said, "will result in material benefit to those countries and the United States." But loans to Europe cannot really help those countries because they cannot be repaid.

Not Isolationist

This is hardly an isolationist doctrine. You might call it an American hemispheric economic program plus charity to Europe's needy.

Now the Marshall plan, is not far away from that in words which have been spoken so far. The state secretary is going to the Latin American conference with just about this same idea in view. Of Europe, he says that throwing our money around must stop and that the Europeans must help themselves, before they can expect to drain and siphon more from us (Marshall has never said how much). Marshall says we have already sent to Europe $9 billion in goods (our total postwar world expenditure runs $19.5 billion).

The bitterness about this subject, therefore, seems to be cropping up among those who wish to pull Marshall further than he has already gone, without taking full cognizance of the realistic approach to our foreign problem which outstanding merchandising leaders like Wood have suggested.

Dewey Again To Hear His Master's Voice?

President Truman is reported taking lessons in diction.

One naturally assumes this is in anticipation of next year's campaign, although it could be for other purposes. Harry's been having a little difficulty of late, getting congress to understand him.

If the President is indeed polishing up his microphone technique in preparation for '48, it comes as no surprise. I never figured he had any idea of moving until the housing shortage eases.

Diction lessons are one of the first prerequisites to a successful candidacy. To be elected these days, a man must be able to make his thoughts clear a swell as his promises vague.

Yes sir, radio has come a long way in politics since the days Al Smith called it radio. Nowadays a candidate's voice is more important than his record.

It will be recalled in this connection that Tom Dewey took lessons in radio speaking four years ago . . . first from Lowell Thomas and later from Franklin Roosevelt.

News and History

By MARK SULLIVAN

WASHINGTON, July 25 — In the economic report which President Truman sent to congress recently is one statement calling for emphasis as both news and history: "Our free economy has become today . . . the richest and most productive machine ever devised by the minds and the hands of men."

That statement, as made in the economic report, is not mere rhetorical exultation. It is a summation of facts which the report states in detail: "We have surpassed previous high records of civilian production and are now producing goods and services at a rate of 225 billion dollars annually . . . In January we reached a level of 60 million civilian jobs, regarded by many as impossible to attain. Our standard of living is exceptionally high, and purchasing power has thus far been adequate to absorb the enormous production of American farms, mines and factories. Farm income has attained a record level. The financial position of business is strong."

So much for the cheerful and the present. When the economic report turns to the future, its emphasis is on danger, danger of inflation.

Across a Pit

As this report pictures the condition, America is walking a tightrope across a pit. If we slip, we fall into the pit, which is catastrophic inflation. But if we cross successfully we can, in the view of the report, make our present prosperity more or less permanent.

That is the report's vision. In putting it forward the report assumes that the degree of inflation which has already taken place will remain: "A large part of the increase in prices since 1940 has become embedded in the cost and income structure of the economy." "We are in the process of seeking to find a workable pattern of income and price relationships on a new price-level."

Acceptance by the administration of the present price level as a basis for future policy is in itself an important event, regardless of whether or not it is possible to realize the vision which this economic report holds out.

A "Major Question"

In dealing with the danger of inflation, the economic report reflects a characteristic point of view of the Truman administration. Among conditions which might cause "a new inflationary push" the report mentions the recent wage raise in coal. The report says it is a "major question" whether this "will give impetus" to other wage demands. "If so, it could lead to a more or less general wage-price spiral."

To this danger, the principal answer given by Mr. Truman's economic report is a scolding admonition to business: "Coal operators now have opportunity to demonstrate the efficiency of private management." "Every effort should be made to absorb the increases . . . through reduction in profit margins." This part of Mr. Truman's report, like a previous formal statement he issued after the wage raise in coal, seems to seek to put responsibility for the economic consequence on one branch of our economy, business.

A Precedent

Throughout the report, there is reticence on the part played in price increases, in the past or in future, by labor, by agriculture, and by administration policies. This does not prevent the report from being a valuable factual statement and analysis covering a wide range of the economy of a nation which is experiencing a production of goods never before attained.

In caution it is necessary to remember that, following the first world war, during the 1920's, we had the same experience, an unparalleled production and prosperity, which at the time was frequently described as an "economic miracle."

A wise man will always be a Christian because the perfection of wisdom is to know where lies tranquility of mind, and how to attain it, which Christianity teaches.—Landon.

One Man's Opinion

By WALTER KIERNAN

When Mr. Truman was "recognized for five minutes" in the senate he was touched . . The Republicans previously hadn't recognized him for five months.

* * *

Of coure the Republicans are just jealous because Harry was picked as part of a perfect man by 10 New York models.

* * *

The girls said their perfect man would have Cary Gran't chin, Tyronne Power's ears and Mr. Truman bow tie.

* * *

If they want their perfect man to get out of the house they had better give him Menjou's pants.

* * *

Anyway the President said he accepted a "dare" in going to the senate. This returned the "dare" on the labor bill.

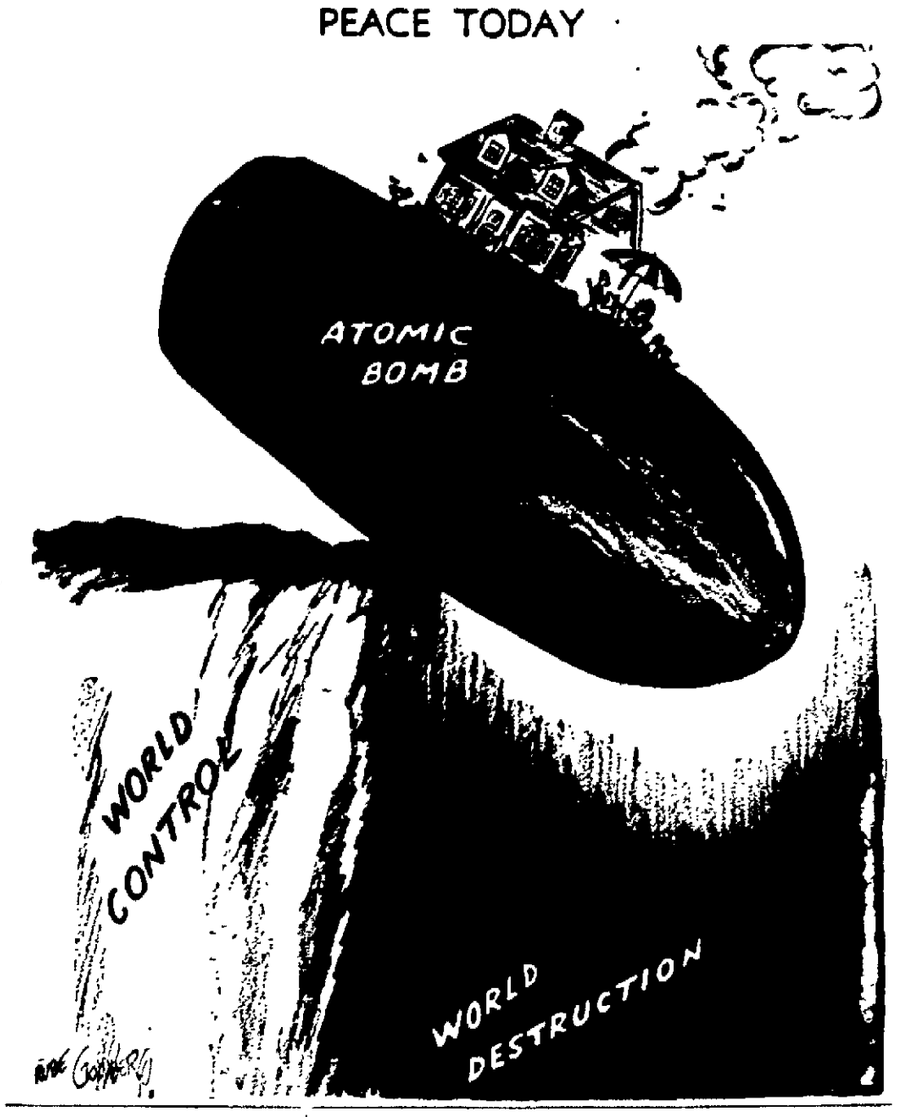
PEACE TODAY



From News of Other Years

TEN YEARS AGO

It was Sunday, July 25, 1937. Marion county was struck by a brief but violent windstorm that disrupted communications and power lines and again filled the streets with broken limbs and trees. The storm brought a sharp drop in temperature to as low as 60 degrees. The maximum was 86 degrees.

Mrs. John Koenig and son David of Congress street and Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Wires and daughter Jane of Olney avenue returned from a week's stay at Coldwater, Mich. They were joined for the weekend by Mr. Koenig and Artis Risch of Ft. Wayne, Ind.

A son, Ray Jr., was born to Mr. and Mrs. Ray Stevenson of Congress street.

Walter Behner, William Arndt, J. W. Llewellyn and M. E. Baldwin of Bird-McGinnis Post, No. 162, Glen Allen, Elmer Leathem and Fred P. Haas of Caledonia Post No. 401, Caledonia and Dr. H. A. Hoopes of Clarence Philippi Post No. 101 of LaRue attended the Sixth district convention of the American Legion at London.

A congregation of nearly 300 persons attended the union church services at Calvary Evangelical church. Rev. Carl V. Roop, pastor of the First United Brethren church, gave a sermon on "The Cross of Christ."

Three Marion residents presented a program for men of the London prison farm. John H. Bain spoke and a song service was presented by Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Ellis.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

It was Monday, July 25, 1927. Lt. C. C. Champion Jr., Navy flier, broke the world's altitude record by flying his land plane to an altitude of between 43,000 and 45,000 feet. The world record, held by Galizzo, a Frenchman, was 40,820 feet.

Monsignor Joseph M. Denning, former pastor of St. Mary Catholic church for 18 years, and consul general and agent to Morocco for two years during President Harding's administration, died in Jewish hospital at Cincinnati following an operation for gallstones on July 1.

It was announced that J. H. Whetmore, formerly of Marion, had resigned his position with the U. S. consulate in Ireland and would become secretary and treasurer of the Central West Mortgage Co. at Columbus.

Mr. and Mrs. John A. Schroeter of East Center street entertained with a dinner for the latter's brother, F. A. Huber, and son, Francis, who were to leave the following Saturday on an extended western trip.

A Hocking Valley freight train equipped with a dynameter to measure the pulling power of the locomotive operated through Marion enroute from Columbus to Toledo.

The Circle of Light, King's Daughters, was organized by Mrs. W. F. Pasters, county president, at a meeting in the home of Miss Cleo Finley on South Vine street. Miss Finley was chosen leader, Miss Mildred Carroll, assistant leader, Mrs. Leona Long, secretary, Mrs. Louise Fogle, assistant secretary, Miss Zelma Daly, treasurer and Mrs. Maude Robinson, assistant treasurer.

Lynching Toll Reduced

By ROMNEY WHEELER

ATLANTA, Ga., July 25 — Six out of every seven potential lynchings are being prevented in the south today by courageous peace officers, alert public officials, and by popular reaction against mob-murder.

This is the finding of Tuskegee institute, which has tabulated lynchings since 1882.

Prevented lynchings are not spectacular. Frequently they are dismissed with a line or two in a local newspaper, in contrast to nationwide publicity for a mob-killing.

Tuskegee records show that in the last 10 years there have been 273 prevented lynchings, against 43 cases in which a mob succeeded in executing its version of "justice."

Seventeen lynchings were prevented in the first six months of 1947, while one victim — Willie Earle of Greenville, S. C.—died at the hands of a mob. Tuskegee lists six Negroes saved from mob violence in Alabama, one in Georgia, four in Mississippi and one in North Carolina.

Ohio Saves Two

Ohio is credited with preventing the lynching of two white men, Massachusetts with saving another white man, and Kansas with saving a threatened Negro.

Courage, resourcefulness and quick thinking have helped to check lynching, as well as ceaseless appeals to public opinion by newspapers and civic leaders.

Three Georgia peace officers underscored this in defying a mob recently at Carrollton, Ga. An Alabama mayor and public leaders checked mob violence by argument on June 10. In Tennessee, a clergyman and city officials turned back a mob last December by appeal to reason.

Their success has been the brighter side of a problem which since 1882 has taken 4,717 lives.

At Carrollton, a 20-year-old Negro farm hand, Eddie Brown Jr., was charged with murder. By his own confession he had killed a white man. He insisted it was accidental. When a mob formed to lynch him, three peace officers risked their lives to resist it, holding off the mob until reinforcements threw a cordon around the jail.

Governor Bestows Praise

Their successful rejection of lynch-law drew commendation from Gov. M. E. Thompson of Georgia, and widespread editorial acclaim for Deputy Russell Lambert, Police Chief Rader Threadgill, and Chief Deputy Otis King.

Previously, at Huntsboro, Ala. quick action by Mayor Hurt Vann and three others checked a mob about to hang a 19-year-old Negro, Jimmy Harris. The suspect was on the ground with a noose around his neck when Vann succeeded in talking the mob out of its intent. A week later the Negro was sentenced to 20 years for attempted rape.

Mob action similarly was averted at Murfreesboro, Tenn., last Dec. 16, when a crazed Negro shot and killed a police officer. A Presbyterian minister, Rev. Hubert Covington, and city officials addressed the mob from the courthouse steps, and induced it to disperse.

Gov. Millard Caldwell of Florida averted a probable lynching near Tallahassee last September sending six cars of highway patrolmen to protect a Negro after an auto wreck had killed a white woman.

One Saves Self

One Negro, Godwin Bush, saved his own life last May 23 when he threw himself from a lyncher's car and escaped after having been taken by a mob of masked men from the Jackson jail near Rich Square, N. C. He later surrendered to the FBI.

Although lynching is still a problem there has been a significant decline in recent years, dropping from 28 in 1933 to six in 1946, and one in the first half of 1947. The figures are national, but a majority occurred in eight southern states.

There have been intensive efforts to stop lynching. The Texas Sheriff's association, in 1942, assailed lynching as murder and urged all of the state's 254 sheriffs to aid in stamping it out. In all states, a significant contribution has been made by state patrols and state constabulary.

The Association of Southern Women for Prevention of Lynching has exerted vigorous efforts toward preventing mob-murder. So has the Association for the Advancement of Colored People, and Tuskegee institute.

Our Wealth

America's net production in 1944 was 27 times larger than in 1850 with only 8½ times as many workers on the job 47 hours a week instead of 70, according to "America's Needs and Resources."

This book, by J. Frederic Dewhurst and associates, and published by Twentieth Century Fund, is being studied by businessmen for an understanding of how their own business fits into the American scheme of things. It draws a sharp distinction between our expending income and our shrinking wealth, for America is becoming a have-not nation. Except for iron, magnesium and aluminum, we are already down to low-grade ores. As a result we shall have to look to the world market for raw materials and adopt a new concept of our place in the world economy.

The Once Over

By H. I. PHILLIPS

The New Rule on Presidents

From now on the United States is in a position to have a president of whom millions of Americans never heard. The rule of succession to the presidency has been changed so that instead of a president and vice president both pass out of the picture, the successor would be a utility player from the house of representatives.

* * *

The old adage can now run "Every American boy has a chance to grow up and become Speaker of the House." And we may yet hear the phrase "From log cabin to Third In Line for the White House."

* * *

Should anything happen to Harry Truman the next President would be Joe Martin. Joe comes from North Attleboro, Mass., has a homespun personality and is a pretty good citizen, but under the new rule a successor in the White House might under different circumstances be Joe Doakes, the gasman who made good among the politicians.

* * *

The people have always felt satisfied in the assumption that if the President and Vice President both died, the top man in his cabinet would step in. It seemed okay to take the best man from the infield, and not call in somebody from deep left or right.

* * *

The chance of both the President and Vice President passing from the scene never concerned us very much, but there is going to be a lot more worrying from now on, due to the fact that two Democrats chosen by a landslide may be succeeded by a Republican, or vice versa.

* * *

Right now what we have is a benchful of majority Presidents with Joe Martin in uniform ready for warm up at a minute's notice. And with the President of the Senate and the various cabinet officers subject to the call as relief pitchers in the order of their importance, and regardless of their politics, membership in Indian tribes, reputation at kissing babies or skill in locomotive cabs.

* * *

Joe Martin, son of a village blacksmith, has a sort of Will Rogers personality and is one of the most likeable characters on the national scene. He is the typical small town boy who made good in the city. In the White House he would be a combination of Cal Coolidge, Andrew Jackson, Grover Cleveland, Dizzy Dean and the All American Boy.

* * *

But he is an outstanding Republican. And putting him in to succeed Truman would be like callnig in a Giant pitcher to win a crucial game for the Dodgers.

* * *

Still, why worry too much. Everything is fixed so that no matter what happens in Washington in this screwball age no emergency can find us with Rocky Graziano or Olsen & Johnson in the White House.

However, the Democrats are pretty jumpy. And if we were Harry Truman we would put on extra guards, keep a careful lookout front and rear and never eat anything some Republican hadn't sampled first.

Vanishing Americanisms

"I agree with that!"!!

Josef Stalin made an official public appearance at a sports festival in Moscow Sunday and seemed in fine spirits. What cheered him up no end, we hear, was the event known as hurling the 500 pound monkey wrench.

* * *

And he liked, too, the numbers on the program marked "Casting the veto," "1,000 yard frown" and "Spiking peace from a standing start."

Imported champagne sales have dropped 50 to 75 per cent and wholesalers are frantically appealing to hotels and bars to cut the prevailing charge of around $18 a quart. They claim the retailers are getting too high a profit. Well, all we know is that, regardless of responsibility, the glamor that used to go with champagne and champagne buyers is gone.

Home Is Wonderful

By TRUMAN TWILL

The annual excursion away from home so home will look good when the excursion is returns—also known as a vacation—is in full bloom. Millions of vacationers are counting the hours until they can be comfortable again. They are knocking themselves out doing things money couldn't hire them to do under any other circumstances.

Newest of the many ideas for giving vacationers what they think they want is the "ranch"—not the one out where the west begins but the dump that has taken a new lease on life by adding horses, red table cloths and a pack of recordings of Brooklyn cowboys whining through their noses to the accompaniment of vague chordings on an electric guitar.

The "ranch racket" is for the special benefit of suckers eager to pay 20 prices for the privilege of living like a peasant. These babies couldn't be paid enough to suffer the way their grandpas suffered but call it a ranch, mention it has a saloon attached—and the stampede is on.

For those who haven't heard about this, the general idea is that a lot of places on the ropes—places that had been called lodges, summer hotels, manors, inns, guest farms and so on—suddenly decided to clean up on the popularity of dude ranches. So one morning they stirred up a mess of flapjacks, added boots and saddles, a dozen oat-burners and bought advertising space in the vacation supplements.

This marks a trend in the great American business of separating the saps from their lettuce. The next thing will be a scheme to get vacationers to sign up for a fortnight of pleasure in tourist homes, which will change their names to villas.

There is a scheme on the go that charges vacationers a fat fee to work as deck hands on a windjammer operating off the Atlantic coast. Give John L. Lewis time to work out the details and he will have vacationers paying a base rate of $13.06 to spend two weeks in a coal mine. All it will take is special diets, a resident medical director and accommodations for children.

Anything goes during vacation. Americans want a change. Spend Your Vacation This Year in O'Hooligan's Boiler Works.. Beer Sound Effects...Large Fireplace...Box Lunches... Trained Counselors...Off Beaten Path... Write for Illustrated Folder and Rates.

REPORT ON HOUSING GIVEN AT MEETING

CIO Hears Discussion by Ellis Oiler, President.

Ellis Oiler, president, reported on the housing situation when Marion Industrial Union council, CIO, met Tuesday night at 139 East Center street. Mr. Oiler's report pertained mainly to the recently enacted housing and rent act.

"Because of the acute housing shortage in Marion, Mr. Oiler said, renters must band together and resist attempts of landlords who would unreasonably raise rents. Renters must organize and act together to effectively resist eviction moves by landlords. If citizens of Marion who are senters demonstrate through organized strength their determination to protect each other against unfair treatment by landlords, then they will be in position to resist rent increases and evictions when the present law expires."

Mr. Oiler reported that the executive board of the council has sent letters to Gov. Thomas Herbert and Mayor Harry L. Dowler concerning appointments to the advisory rent board of the local rent control area. He said five names of persons recommended by the council had been submitted for appointment to the board.

Developments in state and national legislation were reported by Harold Townsend, legislative representative. He explained the position of the CIO in regard to the Taft-Hartley labor law, pointing out that the national union is seeking to test the constitutionality of the law.

William Porter, vice president of the Marion county unit of the Ohio Society of Old Age Pensioners, a guest speaker, asked union members to "continue united efforts toward the betterment of social and economic conditions."

HITS MARRIAGE OF MINISTER

Bishop Criticizes Prelate Who Permitted Wedding to Divorcee.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, July 25—Bishop William T. Manning, in a letter in the current issue of "The Living Church," has protested the fact that the first wife of Elliott Roosevelt was permitted to marry a clergyman of the Protestant Episcopal church.

The retired bishop of the diocese of New York also protested the fact that The Very Rev. Kirk B. O'Ferrall, dean of St. Paul's Cathedral, Detroit, was allowed to marry a divorced woman.

In his letter, Bishop Manning asked whether the action in the two dioceses concerned meant "we are now to have a number of ecclesiastical Renos, and the consequent abolition of any Christian standards of marriage, in the church."

Bishop Manning's letter did not mention the names of the two brides and bridegrooms or of the two bishops who gave their consent to the remarriage, but he did specify the names of the two dioceses, Michigan and Lexington, Ky.

Canon Thomas A. Sparks, pastor of the Cathedral of St. John the Divine, acting as spokesman for Bishop Manning, confirmed yesterday, however, that the marriages to which the bishop referred were those of the first wife of Elliott Roosevelt to Rev. Benedict Henry Hanson of Baltimore, and the wedding of Dean O'Ferrall to Mrs. Isabelle W. Morrill, 30, who was a member of the choir of the Detroit cathedral.

The bishops are The Right Rev. William Robert Moody, head of the diocese of Lexington, Ky., who officiated at the marriage of the former Mrs. Elliott Roosevelt whose second marriage to Curtain Winsor also ended in divorce; and The Right Rev. Frank W. Creighton, head of the diocese of Michigan, who gave his permission for the marriage of the dean of his cathedral.

In Detroit, Bishop Creighton issued the following statement:

"I deeply regret that my friend, Bishop Manning, has seen fit to attack the diocese of Michigan in statements to 'The Living Church' and the New York daily newspapers. Bishop Mannins is a strong defender of the faith and a fine Christian gentleman.

"Unfortunately, he has issued a statement without knowing all the facts in a divorce and remarriage in Michigan. The bishop of Michigan, as is every bishop, is pledged to enforce the canons, rather than treat them with any degree of laxity.

"Bishop Manning may be assured that canons 17 and 18 have been rigidly enforced, and that they apply to the case in Michigan to which he has referred."

SEE HAPPY CHANDLER SEEKING PRESIDENCY

COVINGTON, Ky., July 25—The Kentucky Times-Star today printed a story which said A. B. Chandler, commissioner of baseball, had made a political "deal" to support Congressman Earle C. Clements for the governorship of Kentucky in turn for his aid in 1948 fo rthe Democratic vice presidential nomination and for the presidency in 1952.

The paper said:

"A deal between Congressman Earle C. Clements, Morgansfield, and A. B. (Happy) Chandler, Versailles and Cincinnati, to pledge the Kentucky delegation to Chandler for the Democratic nomination for vice president in 1948 and for president in 1952, was charged Friday by Commonwealth Attorney Ray L. Vincent, Williamstown.

"Vincent, chief of the speakers' bureau for Harry Lee Waterfield, opponent of Clements for the Democratic nomination for governor, said Clements had promised the baseball commissioner his support in the 1948 and 1952 Democratic national conventions in exchange for Chandler's backing in the current race for governor.

"Vincent said Chandler and his chauffeur, 'Frenchy' De Moisey, Walton, were telling friends throughout the state that the political future of the former U. S. senator and Kentucky governor depended on the election of Clements. The report has been circulated particularly through western Kentucky, Vincent asserted.

"Chandler attended the Clements rally in Newport Thursday night, and the congressman made frequent complimentary references to the baseball 'czar,' asserting that he and Chandler had been lifelong friends * * *."

Tent Meeting Draws Good Attendance

A tent meeting of Second Pilgrim Holiness church, at a location on Patterson street between Mark and Farming streets, was reported by Rev. Albert M. Hood, pastor, as drawing "good crowds, interest and results" under preaching of Rev. James Siders of Oak Hill. Mr. and Mrs. Roy Ankrim of Oak Hill have direction of music and special singing and will remain here until Sunday night when they will leave for a camp meeting in Indiana.

Rev. W. C. Bowman of Marion will preach tonight and for the remainder of the meeting which will continue each night next week at 7:45. A girls' trio and other local persons will help with the music next week, Rev. Hood stated.

There will be a service at the tent Saturday night, but Sunday school and morning worship Sunday will be at the church at Ballentine avenue and Mark street. A tent service will be held at 2:30 p. m. Sunday, and another service will be held at the tent at 7:30.

Swimming Classes Continue Next Week

Swimming classes, sponsored by the Marion County Chapter of the American Red Cross at Crystal Lake, will continue through next week, it was announced today by T. E. Brownlee, water safety chairman of the chapter.

The classes, scheduled to close today, are being continued due to the inclement weather which prevented many of the children and adults enrolled in the day and evening classes from attending the instruction periods.

The instructors, all qualified Red Cross teachers in swimming and water safety, have volunteered their services for the coming week, Mr. Brownlee said.

Total of Cancer Clinic Tests Now Over 350

Changes Plea to Guilty Of Disorderly Charge

Patsy Gaultire, 32, of Charleston, W. Va., was fined $100 and costs and sentenced to 60 days in the Columbus workhouse in municipal court today after he changed his plea to guilty to charges of intoxication, disorderly conduct and assault and battery. Gaultire was accused by C. and O. police, who arrested him, of fighting and striking the conductor of train 46 on July 17. Gaultire was a passenger on the train and the conductor said he was molesting a woman passenger. When the conductor reprimanded him for his conduct he started a fight and struck the train chief, the railroad police said.

At a preliminary hearing July 18 Gaultire denied the charges and has been in the county jail since, unable to fill the $200 bond that was fixed at the time. At the hearing today Gaultire changed his plea to guilty.

ST. MARY PICNIC PLANS COMPLETED

Sunday Event Discussed at Committee Meeting.

Final plans were made for the annual outing and homecoming for members and friends of St Mary parish Sunday, at the Marion county fairgrounds, at a meeting of committees Thursday night in Moira hall.

Festivities will get under way with registration at 1 o'clock. Entertainment throughout the afternoon and evening will include music by members of Buckeye Aerie Eagles' band, and a program of contests, recreational and sports events has been arranged for adults, juniors and children. A ball game is scheduled for 2 p. m. between St. Mary's No. 1 and No. 2 teams. A midway of games and concessions will provide varied entertainment and there will be a lunch stand for those not taking a picnic supper. Tables will be provided for picnic parties and the supper hour has been scheduled for 6 p. m.

The entertainment program will continue throughout the evening and will be climaxed with the awarding of special prizes. Awards will be made in the various contests and games, the committee announces.

Thief Gets $6 in Cash From Provision Store

Approximately $6 was taken from a cash register following a breakin at the Terry Provision Co. on North Prospect street some time Thursday night, police reported today.

The building houses both the Terry Co. and Chapman Poultry House. Police said the double doors on the north side of the building were pried open and the intruder apparently entered the Chapman Poultry room first. The glass in the door between the two room was broken and entrance gained through it. The theft was discovered by Stanley D. Terry, manager of the provision store at about 7 a. m. today.

The money was the only thing taken, police said.

MR. AND MRS. RUSSELL D. LUKE of 261 Edgewood drive are announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Margaret Ann, to Robert Allen Schuler of Boston, Mass. A graduate of St. Mary Parochial High school, Miss Luke received her bachelor of science degree on June 8 from St. Mary of the Springs college in Columbus, majoring in biology and chemistry. Her fiance, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Schuler of 270 Chestnut street, also was graduated from St. Mary High school. He attended Ohio Northern university where he affiliated with Theta Kappa Phi fraternity. Serving in the coast guard for nearly four years, he was stationed in Greenland for six months. He is associated with the Hercules-Campbell Body Co. of Cambridge, Mass. The wedding date has been set for Sept. 8.

GOLF and bridge made up the day's program at the weekly ladies' day party yesterday at the Marion Country club. In golf the low net winners were Mrs. Paul Hunt, Mrs. H. W. Freck, Mrs. B. H. Buettin and Mrs. Howard R. Stoll and for low putts the winners were Mrs. K. M. Bower, Mrs. J. B. Bray, Mrs. Merle Hamilton and Mrs. Charles Gerber. Bridge followed luncheon and awards were won by Mrs. Harry Snauffer, Mrs. Otis Porter, Mrs. Frank Stephen, Mrs. John Scott and Miss Emma O'Brien.

Mrs. Phillip Brooks of Uhler avenue entertained the G N O Bridge club Wednesday evening. A handkerchief shower in honor of the birthday of Mrs. Melvin Daugherty, a member, was given. Bridge awards were given to the following high, Mrs. Iscah Beck; second, Mrs. Ray Williams; low, Mrs. Thomas Evans; galloping, Mrs. Melvin Daugherty. Mrs. Evans and Mrs. Ralph Slagle were guests. Mrs. Daugherty will entertain members for the next meeting at her home on Clover avenue.

Mrs. Margaret Cahill was hostess at a meeting of the Valdura club recently at Ringer's inn. Two guests were Mrs. Howard Lawson and Mrs. Louis Gatchell. Honors were won by Mrs. Mary Swan, Mrs. Florence Everly and Mrs. Mary Rothenhauler. Mrs. Elizabeth Murray won the consolation prize. The guest prize was won by Mrs. Lawson.

A farewell party for Mrs. Mary Morbitt of 246 Elm street, who will leave soon to make her home in California, was given Wednesday evening in the home of a sister, Mrs. F. Campiti of the Elm street address. Hostesses were Mrs. S. Britz, her mother, and sisters, Mrs. R. Lowry, Mrs. R. Ordway, and Mrs. Campiti. Mrs. Morbitt and her daughter plan to leave for San Francisco Monday. Pink and blue was the color scheme carried out for the party. Streamers led to a suitcase which held gifts and games were played with prizes going to Mrs. J. Grillo, Mrs. Ralph Nicolosi and Mrs. N. Sansotta. Luncheon, featuring a decorated cake, was served to 25 guests.

Mrs. Wayne Ruby and Mrs. Dwight Ruby entertained with a kitchen shower Wednesday evening at Ringer's inn for the pleasure of their sister-in-law, Miss Bette Ruby, a bride-elect of Aug. 7. Cards were played, awards in bridge going to Miss Mary Margaret Miller and Mrs. Carl Miller, and in euchre to Mrs. Ted Miller and Mrs. Robert Eddy. Blue and white, the colors Miss Ruby has chosen for her wedding, predominated in the appointments for a lunch and the table was centered with a bouquet of garden flowers, a gift of Mrs. Virgil Curren. Guests were members of the family and close relatives of the bride-elect. Miss Ruby is the fiancee of Russell Brady.

W. C. Fields Gave Away $500,000, Widow Says

LOS ANGELES, July 25—Mrs. Harriet V. Fields, widow of late comedian W. C. Fields, has revealed in a Los Angeles superior court suit the actor gave away approximately $500,000 in gifts before his death — mostly to women.

Mrs. Fields was bequeathed only $10,000 when the funny man died Christmas day and is suing to recover one-half of an estimated $800,000 estate under community property law.

Fields, she stated, was stern about his money matters and at one time threatened to leave the country and cut off her support entirely if she talked money with him.

For years, she charged, Fields complained he scarcely had one dime to rub against another.

Suggest Rye Grass Sowing in Corn Land This Fall

Some 100,000 tons of Marion county farm land can be saved now from the ravages of erosion by the seeding of domestic rye grass in corn fields, W. L. Williams, U. S. Soil Conservation Service farm planner for the Marion county soil conservation district, said this week in discussing farm conditions due to the late planting of corn.

Late planting of corn and soybeans will mean that many fields will not be cut or picked in time to seed wheat or rye, as is customary, and will lay bare through the winter months, Mr. Williams pointed out, adding that bare fields are subject to "destructive washing" during the fall, winter, and early spring months.

Mr. Williams suggested a seeding of 10 pounds of domestic rye grass per acre at the last cultivation of corn "to provide a good winter cover crop."

"Where the land has been limed sufficiently to grow alfalfa," he continued, "10 pounds of sweet clover can be added to the domestic rye grass, thereby furnishing a desirable legume and more nitrogen to the seeding."

He explained that domestic rye grass is an annual plant and is a combination of English and Italian rye grasses which make quick growth and furnishes not only some fall and early spring pasture but also gives more tilth to heavy soil through massive root growths.

"Better soil drainage can be secured when both the rye grass and sweet clover are used in the seeding mixture," Mr. Williams said.

Bouncing 35-Pound Ice Cube Costs $4,000

By HAL BOYLE

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON—Let us consider today a 35-pound chunk of ice that congress agrees should cost the American people $4,000.

It reached this inflationary level after coming forcibly into contact with citizen Harley Shores under circumstances which led him to believe the United States government was to blame. Anyway he was sure it wasn't his fault.

The case is typical of thousands of personal claims that used to tie up congress before the reorganization bill was passed. This bill now shuttles most such cases originating since Jan. 1, 1945, to the federal district courts for settlement.

Hal Boyle

But the "case of the high ice" goes back further. It shows how complex a matter it is to collect from Uncle Sam for damages.

The story begins on Dec. 19, 1943, when Harley Shores was working with a Missouri Pacific road gang near Alma, Ark. As a troop train passed by at 60 miles an hour, a 35-pound chunk of ice fell or was thrown from a kitchen car.

The ice struck the ground, bounced and hit Shores on the left knee—and his troubles with the American government began.

Hospital Bill Grows

He suffered a fractured cartilage which required extensive hospital treatment and, he said, kept him from returning to his 46-cents-an-hour laboring job.

Shores first sued the Missouri Pacific railroad and the jury awarded him damages. But on Jan. 7, 1946, the Arkansas supreme court reversed this verdict, declaring that the jury had no right to hold the railroad guilty of negligence as the train was under the control of an army officer.

So Shores and his attorney decided that same month they had better take up the matter of the bouncing ice cake with congress.

In the 25 months since the accident, Shores informed the legislators in house bill No. 5154, his knee had got no better and he had been able to earn only $150.

He said that in order to support him, his wife and three children had been forced to cut spinach, pick strawberries, cottons and beans, and work in canning factories. He said that he needed an operation on his knee to remove the fractured cartilage but couldn't afford one.

Bill Gets Lost

Well, I don't know what happened to house bill No. 5154, but it must have gotten lost in the shuffle somewhere.

Shores, his knee and the 35-pound cake of ice pobbed up again last January—a year later—in house bill No. 640, requesting $5,000 damages.

The war department entered the case on July 3. Secretary of War Robert Patterson wrote the house judiciary committee that yes, he guessed the military authorities on the troop train must have been negligent.

He said the war department had no objection to enactment of the bill if the damage award was scaled down from $5,000 to $4,000.

He figured Shores had lost $2,726.78 in earnings, but that from this should be deducted the $1,600 Shores had received in insurance payments of $40 a month for 40 months.

Set Bill at $4,000

This would leave $1,126.78, and the war department opined that an additional $2,873.22 — making $4,000 in all—would compensate Shores for his "personal injury and pain and suffering."

The judiciary committee accepted the war department's compromise, and both the house and senate passed the bill. Now—42 months after the accident—all that Shores needs to collect $4,000 for his game knee is the signature of Harry S. Truman, which will probably be forthcoming any day now, as few private claims ever sort suffer the presidential.

No mention is made in documents as to the fate of the pound chunk of ice that the gigantic government machine is grinding. Presumably, it has melted.

The only question left unanswered is whether it wouldn't be cheaper for troop trains to carry ice.

CRAWFORD COUNTY GROUP TO MAKE TOUR

O.S.U. Event for Farmers Set for Aug. 11.

The Ohio State university farm tour Monday, Aug. 11, and several open house meetings on farms of cooperators with the Divide Soil Conservation District were discussed Wednesday night at a meeting of the district board of supervisors at their office in the Postoffice building.

The university farm tour will be open to all residents of Crawford county and will be sponsored by the board, in cooperation with the extension service. The group will meet at 10 a. m. at Plum Hall on the university grounds.

H. E. Hecker of Mt. Gilead, district conservationist for the U. S. Soil Conservation Service, told the board that George L. Sherman of Mt. Gilead, U. S. Soil Conservation Service agricultural engineer, will meet with petitioners of the Grau and New Winchester ditch projects.

The Grau ditch petitioners will meet tonight at 8:15 at the James Krauter farm and the New Winchester group will meet Tuesday night, July 29, in the township house. Mr. Sherman will discuss surveys he has made of both drainage problems.

The board approved a request from a group of Cranberry Township farmers for a preliminary survey of a drainage problem in their area and also approved farm plans developed by Leonard E. Wurm of Dallas township and Donald Rexroth of Bucyrus township, in cooperation with technicians of the U. S. Soil Conservation Service assigned to Divide District. The plans will bring approximately 675 acres of Crawford county farm lands under conservation practices.

Ralph Worden and Harry Stevens were named delegate and alternate, respectively, to the Mississippi Valley Association training school for supervisors Sept. 4-6 at Camp Muskingum, Leesville Lake, Carroll county, Ohio.

The board voted to participate in a contest sponsored by the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. to recognize outstanding soil conservation work of district governing bodies and farmers from July 1, 1947, through June 30, 1948. County Agent Russell Miller will discuss the contest further at the next board meeting on Aug. 26.

Bible Conference Will Close Tonight

Final service of a three-day Bible conference here, sponsored by the non-denominational Bible Conference class which meets at the Y. M. C. A. each Friday, will be held tonight in the Y Varsity room. Rev. Ernest Finkenbiner of Bellefontaine, deputation secretary for Christian Missions, Inc., will speak from the book of Revelation, chapter 1, verse 20, on "The Mystery of the Seven Churches." At the close of the session he will show colored moving pictures of the island of Martinique in the Caribbean sea.

Last night, delegations from LaRue and Upper Sandusky helped to swell attendance to a higher mark than the first night of the conference, Earl Holliday, director of the conference and teacher of the weekly Bible conference class, reported. Rev. Lanne Beausay of Upper Sandusky led singing and Lee Parker of Marion offered prayer.

SUNDAY SCHOOL PICNIC

Russian Refusal To Join Jap Parley Foreshadows Showdown

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Another critical showdown between Russia and the western Allies is presaged by Moscow's refusal of the American invitation to join an 11-nation conference Aug. 19 to discuss a Japanese peace treaty.

Russia charges that the United States acted in a unilateral manner, and says that preliminary work on the Japanese treaty should be done by the council of foreign ministers. That is to say the Soviet Union wants to follow the same procedure as that which resulted in the disastrous failure of the Big Four to frame a German treaty because of disagreements between Russia on the one side and America, Britain and France on the other.

MACKENZIE

What Washington proposed regarding the Japanese treaty was that the work by done by a veto-free parley of 11 interested nations, to be held in Washington or San Francisco. Decisions would be made by a two-thirds vote, with or without agreement by the great powers—a procedure which would be a far-reach from the European Big Four meetings where a veto by one power scuttled the ship. Finally there would be a general peace conference of all 48 nations which were at war with Japan.

The 11 nations which America proposed should draft the treaty all have special interest in it. They are the United States, Britain, China, Russia, France, Canada, The Netherlands, India, Australia, New Zealand and the Philippines.

Moscow's rejection of this proposal puts Washington in position of having to decide whether to try to go ahead with a 10-nation conference which would frame a treaty without participation of one of the countries chiefly interested—Soviet Russia. We must assume that this contingency was foreseen, but it nevertheless creates a serious situation.

Should it be decided to go ahead without the Muscovites there will be another complication to iron out—not a serious difficulty but one which has been causing some heart-burning. A British commonwealth meeting had been fixed for Aug. 26 in Canberra, Australia, to consider the commonwealth position regarding a Japanese treaty. The British have asked that the suggested peace conference be postponed.

MacArthur Pleased

When the American proposal was announced General Douglas MacArthur was described as highly pleased, and Japan generally was jubilant. As far back as March, MacArthur called for an early treaty with Japan and he has said that it should set the pattern for future peace throughout the world.

Urgent need for an economic revival in Japan was reported last week by a special American statistical mission headed by Dr. Stuart A. Rice, assistant director of the budget bureau. And not long ago General MacArthur expressed the opinion that occupation of Japan shouldn't be continued beyond five years, although she should be supervised for a generation.

Experts have figured that the framing of a Japanese treaty might take a year and they note that the complicated territorial and political questions which have harrassed Europe will be absent. Among other things the treaty must provide for future control of Japan, for reparations and their distribution, Japan's future economic position (a matter of special interest to Russia, the United States, the British commonwealth and China), and territorial questions.

STAFF OF 4 TO AID OHIO LIQUOR SUPPLY

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., July 25—Atty. Gen. Hugh S. Jenkins announced yesterday he would hire four specially trained investigators, instead of the two originally contemplated for his probe of swollen state liquor stocks.

He indicated that most of the quartet's work would be "outside the state" but explained that secrecy was necessary for the time being in the probe requested by Gov. Thomas J. Herbert.

The governor gave Jenkins a free hand to inquire into the state's $40,000,000 liquor stocks, much of them slow-moving brands, but expressed belief the past year was the most logical period for scrutiny.

Jenkins said he probably would confine his inquiry to the period between last October and June, the dates cited in a report by Liquor Director Dale Dunifon, recent successor to Stanley B. Cofall of Cleveland, resigned.

Dunifon in a report to the governor last week said the department had been heavily overstocked with slow-moving brands under Herbert's Democratic predecessor.

He accused suppliers of "knowingly" selling the state more spirits than needed and banned further purchases from them until adjustments were discussed.

Jenkins declined comment on a demand by State Auditor Joseph T. Ferguson that the hire 10 men for a "thorough" investigation but said the probe could be simply financed without emergency funds.

Jenkins said he had intended to ask the state emergency board for investigation money but learned that his department had enough funds on hand.

They included, he said, about $3,000 left from the $6,500 appropriated for the attorney general's special investigation into private club permits issued during closing days of the Lausche regime. Scores of permits were revoked as a result of that probe.

OHIO CEASES BUYING LIQUOR

Public Must Drink Stocks on Hand, State Director Declares.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., July 25 — There'll be no liquor buying by the state of Ohio until the public uses up the brands already in stock—and if they get tired of them they'll just have to be patient until the liquor department's "buying freeze" thaws out.

State Liquor Director Dale Dunlon made this clear in an interview yesterday in which he said the department would not buy even a case of the most popular whisky "until the overall inventory picture is satisfactory." He said:

"I don't know when we'll start buying again. We've got enough of the popular brands to last for several weeks and I'm going to get rid of the other stuff we're loaded up on too. Nobody knows how long it will take to get our inventory back in good shape."

Found Item on Books

That inventory Dunlon keeps talking about is the $42,000,000 item he found on the books when he took over as director last month.

Gov. Thomas J. Herbert has asked Atty. Gen. Hugh S. Jenkins to launch a full-scale investigation into how it came about.

Dunlon contends the normal liquor department inventory is $17,500,000.

A buying freeze by the liquor department may, however, bring about a price fluctuation that would make it profitable for the director to invest in a few purchases.

"Just 2 Ways"

As he explained it:

"I want the public to get the benefit of reduced prices, but we'll allow it to be done only in one of two ways. The distiller either must pay the state the difference between the old and new price of his stock now in the warehouse, or else must make a floor stock adjustment,' giving us the dollar value of the difference in additional whisky."

Dunlon reported that several distillers had sought permission to reduce prices on their oranda for competitive reasons.

OHIO STEEL COMPANY BOOSTS BASIC PRICE

By The Associated Press

MIDDLETOWN, O., July 25—The American Rolling Mill Co. today was the first member of the steel family to boost basic steel prices.

President Charles R. Hook announced last night that ARMCO intended to meet rising costs by getting $6 and $7 more a ton.

Revised prices, which Hook said became effective yesterday, quoted a basic figure of $57 a ton for hot rolled steel compared with $50 previously and $71 against $64 for cold rolled steel, the two finished steel grades ARMCO produces.

Hook asserted that ARMCO increased prices "to realize a reasonable, although relatively low, profit on most of its production." He added that the price boosts followed the "impact" of wage advances granted ARMCO steel workers, its coal miners and other zooming production costs.

He said that only by increasing prices could ARMCO conduct its business "so as to provide reasonably balanced output of various sheet steel grades and it can do so only if a profit is to be secured on each."

Other steel companies throughout the nation declined to comment immediately upon the ARMCO action but Republic Steel at Cleveland yesterday had indicated in its quarterly report that production costs soon would necessitate some price adjustment.

Triplets Born to Pair Living in Single Room

By The United Press

COLUMBUS, July 25—Triplets, two girls and a boy, were born today as the first children of Mr. and Mrs. Ila Dee Perry whose home is a single room.

Dr. Guilford B. Holston who delivered the babies at a hospital here said the first two that arrived were girls weighing two pounds 14¾ ounces and two pounds 10½ ounces each. The third child, a boy, weighed four pounds one ounce at birth.

Perry said his biggest problem now was to find a new place to live.

CANTON WORKERS RAISED

CANTON, O., July 25 — All hourly and non-elective salaried employes of the city will get pay raises for the rest of the year, as the result of city council action in a special session last night.

YOUTH INJURED IN COLLISION OF AUTOS

Donald Spicer Treated at City Hospital.

Donald Spicer, 19, of 132 Waterloo street was treated at City hospital early this morning for head cuts suffered in an automobile accident on Fairground street just east of Patterson street. Police reported Spicer was driving west on Fairground when his automobile hit a parked automobile owned by Harley Jones of near Nevada. Harry Eathes of 263 East Fairground street, a passenger in Spicer's auto, was uninjured. Spicer was taken to the hospital by Jones. He was treated and released. Damage was caused to the front of the Spicer auto and the rear of the Jones car.

TRAIN RIDERS FINED

Milton Easley, 40, and Joseph Sexson, 34, both of Toledo and Allie Audrey Herring, 27, of Denvill, Va., pleaded guilty in municipal court today when charged with illegal train riding and were fined $10 and costs each. They were arrested by Chesapeake and Ohio officials at 9:26 p. m. yesterday.

instant later he saw him lying on the cinders. He went back to him, shook him and asked if he was all right. He said the boy asked where he was.

Donald Gunder, ambulance driver, said all four boys were standing and moving about when the ambulance arrived at the scene and it was believed all the children were out of the car before it was struck.

Native of Morrow County

Mrs. Hill was born in Morrow county April 29, 1904 to Quinn P. and Della Hines Kightlinger, who survive. She was married May 27, 1926 at Kirkpatrick to Thomas J. Hill, who operates the Chevrolet agency in Caledonia.

Mrs. Hill was a member of the Church of Christ, Ladies Guild, Loyal Sons and Daughters Sunday School class, Vera Chapter No. 64, O.E.S. and the Past Matrons club of the order.

She is survived by her parents, who live at Caledonia, her husband, the two sons, Robert and Dwight, three sisters, Mrs. Bertha Dice of Caledonia, Mrs. Edith Hawk of Sharpless court, Mrs. Betty Seaburn of Herman street, and three brothers, Arthur Kightlinger of Coshocton, Roscoe of Mt. Vernon avenue and Harold of Caledonia.

Funeral services will be Sunday at 2:30 p. m. at the Church of Christ with burial in Caledonia cemetery. Friends may call at the Timson Allen Funeral Home after 7 p. m. tonight and until noon Sunday when the body will be taken to the church where friends may call until time for the services.

He told Marshall:

"When a congressional subcommittee is refused visas by the Russian embassy because of 'lack of hotel accommodations,' I submit it is entirely in order for you to request the immediate removal of all excess Russian nationals, registered and unregistered, residing in our country, because of the acute housing shortage in the United States."

Further, he asked Marshall to put into effect "strict reciprocity" and "authorize the residence in this country of only that number of Russian nationals as is permitted to citizens of the United States in the Soviet Union."

Richwood Man Bound Over on Theft Charge

Lester Streeter of Richwood was bound over to the Marion county grand jury when he pleaded guilty to a charge of grand larceny before Municipal Judge W. Dexter Hazen Thursday. Streeter is charged with stealing four loads of corn from farms in Marion, Union and Delaware counties from July 3 to July 21. He was committed to the county jail after failure to raise $2,500 bond set by Judge Hazen. Value of the corn stolen was estimated at over $500.

Streeter was arrested Wednesday night on East Center street by the Marion county sheriff's department. He admitted the thefts at the time of his arrest, the sheriff said.

Tombstones Missing From Nevada Graves

Special to The Star

NEVADA, July 25—If you see anyone carrying two 300 pound marble tombstones, notify Sheriff B. H. Stansberry of Wyandot county. Sheriff Stansberry reported Thursday that two such stones were missing from the Nevada cemetery.

A caretaker discovered this week that the stones were missing from the burial plot of the late Dr. H. B. Wideman. They marked the resting place of Dr. Wideman, and the future grave of Dr. Wideman's widow, Mrs. Isabelle Wideman, who lives in Cleveland.

JESSE JONES MAY ENTER HUGHES PROBE

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 25—Senatorial investigators hinted today at Jesse Jones as an ace witness in their efforts to prove that White House pressure forced award of a $40,000,000 wartime plane contract to Howard Hughes and Henry J. Kaiser.

The former cabinet member's possible appearance hinges, one senator said, on whether any documentary evidence is found in the files of the late President Roosevelt.

A senate war investigating subcommittee will open a hearing Monday into the contract for planes that never were delivered.

Senator Ferguson (R-Mich), who heads the inquiry group told a reporter he "doesn't know yet" whether Jones will be asked to testify.

Although Ferguson declined further comment, another committee member said it is likely the former secretary of commerce and head of the reconstruction finance corporation will be asked to tell what he knows about the matter if a search of the Roosevelt files proves fruitless.

Jones was represented by this member as having balked at signing the airplane contract with Hughes, millionaire Hollywood movie producer, and Kaiser, wartime ship builder, until he was given a written memo on the deal.

President Roosevelt ousted Jones from the cabinet in January, 1945, to give the commerce portfolio to Henry A. Wallace.

The Ferguson committee has been told in testimony taken behind closed doors that the Army and Navy opposed letting the Hughes-Kaiser contract for plywood planes. This contract later was replaced by a contract with Hughes for a photo-reconnaissance ship.

Ferguson has charged that White House "pressure" was brought to force acceptance of the original contract, carried out in part through the defense plant corporation, an RFC subsidiary.

Farmer Injured In Fall from Hay Wagon

Frank McClenathan of route 6 Marion was injured in a fall from a hay wagon in his barn yesterday afternoon. He was admitted to City hospital for X-ray treatment. While unloading hay from the wagon and pitching it into the mow, McClenathan saw a large overhead beam falling. While dodging the beam he slipped from the wagon and his head struck an object nearby. His sons who were helping him with the work brought him to the hospital. The McClenathan farm is located one mile south of Claridon on the river road.

DRAG LAKE FOR BODIES

By The Associated Press

MILLERSPORT, O., July 25—Buckeye lake was dragged today for the bodies of Raymond H. Johnson, 49, of Millersport, and six-year-old Jessilon Harvey of Lancaster, who drowned last night when a rowboat containing five persons capsized off Summerland Beach. An unidentified fisherman rescued the boy's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ellis E. Harvey of Corey, Pa., and his sister, Jo Ann Harvey, 15.

Frantic Clevelander Roams City Seeking Cottage Going West

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, July 25—Anyone who has seen a cottage going west kindly communicate with Julius Z. Papp.

It is a 12 by 21 structure, 10 feet high, with a gable roof, six windows and two doors, last reported westbound on Detroit avenue in the vicinity of West 117th street, aboard a large truck.

It was standing on skids in the lot next to a house Papp owns on West 45th street. He bought it for $1,500, moved it in from Berea road, and planned to add a room "and maybe sell or rent it."

Yesterday in broad daylight two men drove up, hooked on a winch, dragged the cottage aboard the truck and drove out Detroit avenue, said a neighbor girl, Margaret Yonta, 15.

Last night Papp went out the avenue asking people whether they had seen his cottage going by. As far as 117th street he found people who believed him, because they had seen it.

Beyond that, Papp had to give up.

SMALLPOX DISCOVERED ABOARD SANTA FE TRAIN

Passengers Face Vaccination or 14-Day Quarantine.

By The Associated Press

Los Angeles, July 25—Vaccination or a 14-day quarantine faced passengers and crewmen aboard a Santa Fe train due here today following removal of a Negro dining car waiter with smallpox at Clovis, N. M.

City health officers planned to board the third section of the Grand Canyon train at San Bernardino, more than an hour before it is due here at 11 a. m.

Dr. H. C. Pulley, chief assistant health officer, said instructions from the state bureau of preventive medicine were to vaccinate all of the 138 persons aboard, but any who refused would be quarantined for 14 days of observation at their homes.

The railroad identified the stricken patient as Ray Thompson, 38, of Chicago. Santa Fe physicians brought aboard serum at Clovis and invited passengers not vaccinated in the past five years to be treated.

The train includes five carloads of delegates enroute to a Lions club international convention at San Francisco.

sation between the engineer and his crew in normal tones.

Every possible safety device has been built into these transportation marvels. The "dead-man's control" automactically brings the train to a stop in the event anything should happen to the engineer.

In the train will also be one of the Erie's newest air-conditioned coaches with wide clear-vision windows, adjustable reclining seats, individual lighting for night travel and large comfortable rest rooms. Wide luggage racks and venetian blinds have been provided to blend in with the tastefully decorated coach interiors.

To complete the exhibition train, one of the Erie's most modern sleeping cars will be included. Seven new all-room sleeping cars with bedrooms and roomettes will be delivered to the Erie later this year.

The trains which will have diesel locomotives are Trains No. 1 and No. 2 (Erie Limited), No. 5-15 and No. 6-16 (Lake Cities-Midlander), No. 7 (Pacific Express) and No. 8 (Atlantic Express). Trains No. 7 and No. 8 will use steam power between Marion and Chicago.

Rept. Jones Gives Thanks To Truman for FCC Job

By The United Press

WASHINGTON, July 25—Rep. Robert A. Jones, (R) Lima, called at the White House yesterday to thank President Truman for his appointment to the federal communications commission.

The senate earlier this month had confirmed Jones' nomination to the seven-year term on the FCC after lengthy hearings concerning his alleged membership in the "Black Legion."

The congressman said he will resign his seat in congress after adjournment, scheduled for Saturday, and will take a short vacation before assuming his FCC duties.

"GUILTY" OF MURDER

By The Associated Press

WILMINGTON, O., June 25—Owen W. Shaw, 45, a laborer, was found guilty of the first degree murder of Simeon Hurley, 66, by a jury here last night. The jury, composed of 10 men and two women, recommended mercy.

CLAIM CAPTURE OF DUTCH BASE

Indonesians Declare Jump-Off Point for Assault on Capital Taken.

By The Associated Press

JOGJAKARTA, JAVA, July 25—The Indonesian Republic army said today its forces had entered the north Java coastal city of Semarang, the starting point of a Dutch advance toward Jogjakarta.

"Our forces received the full support of the population surrounding the city," said a communique issued in this Republican capital, "and clashes were reported between Dutch troops and Indonesians serving in the Dutch army."

Semarang is about 60 miles north of Jogjakarta, almost clear across the island.

A high Indonesian source conceded the Dutch had reached a "gateway" to Malang in east Java after passing Lawang, about 12 miles north of that city. The Republicans yesterday had reported the Dutch driven out of Lawang.

Indonesian military informants said Dutch troops from Batavia Netherlands colonial capital in northwestern Java, were planning these drives:

1. Eastward to Tegal, north coast port 45 miles east of Cheribon, which the Dutch reported taking day before yesterday.

2. Southward from Tegal to Poerwokerto. From there a road leads to Tjilatjap harbor on the south Java coast, only 20 miles away.

3. Southward from Cheribon 20 miles to Koeningan and then 25 miles further southeast to Tasikmalaja, principal Republican town of West Java.

4. Southward from the Batavia-Cheribon road 20 miles to Poerwakarta, main headquarters of the Republican army. (Poerwakarta is not to be confused with Poerwokerto.)

SHOCKS

p. m. quake shook nothing out the seismograph needle. The final shock was recorded in San Diego at 10:20 p. m. No damage was reported in the area.

Most Massachusetts residents apparently slept through the quake recorded by the Boston college siesmograph station at 4:30 a. m., today. Rev. Daniel Linehan said the shock, centered 15 miles north of his Weston station at Chelmsford, was "quite strong," but police said they hadn't noticed any ground shakings.

The heaviest quake, described as "quite severe" by Rev. Joseph Lynch of the Fordham university seismograph station at New York, struck in the Southwest Pacific or East Indies yesterday morning. Shocks were recorded at 7:35 and 7:37 a. m., at the Fordham station.

Make This Home Recipe To Take Off Ugly Fat

It's simple. It's amazing how quickly one may lose pounds of bulky, unsightly fat right in your own home. Make this recipe yourself. It's easy—no trouble at all and costs little. It contains nothing harmful. Just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Rennel Concentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill the bottle. Then take two tablespoonsful twice a day. That's all there is to it.

If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves; if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back. You don't have to starve yourself; eat sensibly per instructions on bottle. Follow the easy way endorsed by many who have tried this plan and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Note how quickly bloat disappears—how much better you feel. More alive, youthful appearing and active.

Higher Food Prices For 1948 Foreseen

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, July 25 — Food prices will rise to even higher levels next year than housewives have been paying in 1947, predicts Walter C. Berger, president of the American Feed Manufacturers association.

In a talk before the International Baby Chick association here, Berger based his forecast on the "present tight feed situation."

"Shortages in grain supply mean high grain prices," he said, "high grain prices mean high feed prices and high feed prices mean high prices for human foods. That is the vicious cycle we face."

MONTGOMERY GRANGE PLANS FAIR EXHIBIT

Farm Group Meets at Hall in DeCliff.

A general outline of plans for exhibits at the Marion county fair was given by Clifton Wenig at a meeting of Montgomery Grange Wednesday night at the Grange hall in DeCliff. A meeting of the exhibit committee will be held Sunday, Aug. 3, at the home of Mr. Wenig when details will be completed. Judging of dresses and stuffed toys was followed by a program hour.

Honors in the dress judging contest were won by Mrs. Cletus Uhl first and Miss Ruth Granger. Judges were Miss Mary Ann Trimble and Miss Zenie Dykes of the home economics department of the Ohio Public Service Co. who also judged the stuffed toy contest. Winners in the latter contest were Mrs. Clifton Wenig, first, and Mrs. Calvin Oborn, second. Peggy Uhl presented the Grange with some towels made by the Meeker 4-H Homemakers club.

Howard Murphy was installed as assistant steward. The lecture hour included a vocal duet by Helen Haughn and Mary Jane Coon, and a girls' sextet composed of Jane Weston, Ruth Granger, Peggy Uhl, Carol Harriman, Betty Uhl and Alma Roush sang a group of songs. A dialogue was given by Mr. and Mrs. Cletus Uhl. Mrs. Clifton Wenig, chairman of the home economics committee, announced that Roy Peters would serve as general manager of the refreshment concession to be in charge of the Grange at the county fair. He will be assisted by the various members throughout fair week.

Special Arctic Crash Firefighter Designed

By The Associated Press

DAYTON, O., July 25 — A specially designed mechanical monster to combat airplane crash fires in Arctic weather is being shipped from nearby Wright Field to Ladd Field, Alaska, Air Materiel Command headquarters reported today.

Known as a modified M-8 cargo tractor, the new fire fighter looks like a box car atop a large tank. Weighing 35 tons, the "tractor" is manned by a crew of six and is fitted to operate at high speed over snow, slush or ice.

Bicycle Stunt Man Falls from Flagpole

By The Associated Press

MEMPHIS, Tenn., July 25 — Richard (Dixie) Blandy, 42, of Dayton, O., who pedalled a bicycle atop a 50-foot flagpole for four days, was injured last night when his stunt apparatus snapped and sent him crashing to the ground at the Memphis fairgrounds.

The mishap occurred only nine minutes before the aerialist was scheduled to descend the pole and end his five-day marathon of riding and standing.

At a hospital where his condition was termed "fair," Blandy said he "felt awfully weak from standing such a long time."

Program Presented By Progressive Grange

Announcement was made of a statewide sixth degree meeting to be held in 15 differen cities during the latter part of July, was made at a meeting of the Progressive Grange Tuesday.

A large number of candidates are planning to take the sixth degree and are also going to the national convention for the seventh degree. A program by former lecturers of the Grange followed the business session. The program was in charge of Lura Gruber, Adeline Gruber, Marie Mack and Virginia Veness.

Plans for the next meeting which will include refreshments will be in the form of a picnic and ice cream festival following a Tom Breneman program. The grange orchestra will also hold practice before and after the festival. The orchestra, under the direction of Mrs. Cecil Davis, has been invited to furnish the music for the degree work at Mansfield Aug. 2. Musicians from several other Granges will join the orchestra for the occasion.

Greeks Use Rockets To Repel Guerrillas

By The Associated Press

ATHENS, July 25—A war ministry spokesman said Greek government forces, using rocket-firing planes and artillery, repelled a strong guerrilla attack today on Grevena, about 40 miles east of the Albanian border.

The ministry said a guerrilla force of from 12,00 to 1,500 men, equipped with heavy weapons, launched the attack at 3 a. m.

The spokesman said the initial assault forced back guard posts outside Grevena, a town of 4,0000 in the Pindus mountain foothills, southeast of the Mount Grammos border area where government forces have been battling leftist units for almost a month.

"The attack was repelled and the guerrillas were decimated," the spokesman said.

MARION BOUNCES BACK TO TAKE RICHMOND ROSES, 8-3

Flamini's Win, Twin Dodger Loss Boost Cubs in Standings

Special to The Star

RICHMOND, Ind., July 25—The Marion Cubs pushed over four runs in the first inning here last night and went on to defeat the Richmond Roses, 8-3, to split the two game series.

Coupled with the loss of a doubleheader by Zanesville the victory moved the Cubs to within four games of the Dodgers.

Bert Flamini who failed to allow the Roses a hit until the fourth inning and only five thereafter gained his fifth win against no setbacks. The crafty southpaw walked only five and struck out seven.

Two Pitchers Work

Two pitchers worked in the box for Richmond and two in the outfield at Ken St. Pierre, who beat the Cubs Wednesday night, played left field and Bob Swain played right Starting nurler Eggers was credited with the loss when he failed to last an inning

The Cubs put the game away early with a quartet of runs in the opening round.

Roy Hollingshead started the game with a single and John Smith walked. Then after both Rasmussen and Maxhimer filed out, Manager Burbrink got an infield single to load the bases and Bob Shuford singled for two runs and sent the Marion skipper to third. After Shuford stole second Gene Bobzean tripled for two runs.

Hitless Runs

All three Richmond runs were made without a hit. In the first inning a walk, three Cub errors and an infield out let in two runs. In the third inning a walk, error and Regan's fielder's choice scored the third run.

The Cubs are idle today but move to Lima for a weekend series playing a single tomorrow night and a twin bill Sunday afternoon.

Wednesday the feature game at Crystal lake, scheduled for 9 p. m. will find the Maids opposing the J. and K Girls of Columbus, state champs last year. The All-Stars are booked with Fostoria K. of C. in the first game at 8 p. m.

GOLFING KINGS TEE OFF AT COLUMBUS

By FRITZ HOWELL
Ohio AP Sports Editor

COLUMBUS, O., July 25—Golfdom's leading money winners start after another $10,000 pot of gold today in the second annual 72-hole medal play Columbus open championship.

The field of 93 professionals and 14 amateurs resembled the "who's who" of the links, with title-winners galore numbered among the club-swinging athletes.

Bobby Locke, who came to this country from South Africa in May to play a few tournaments—and stayed on to win six of 11—was the No. 1 choice to take the $2,500 top prize annexed a year ago by the now-retired Byron Nelson, but he was expected to have plenty of opposition.

With such sharpshooters as Sam Snead, Ben Hogan, Jimmy Demaret, Ed (Porky) Oliver, Ed Furgol, Jim Ferrier, Herman Keiser, Lew Worsham, Clayton Heafner, Johnny Palmer, Lawson Little, Ellsworth Vines, Chick Harbert and a host of others battling for the bucks, anything could happen.

One thing was certainly in Locke's favor, along with his shotmaking ability. The Columbus Country club's rolling, heavily-treed course is on high ground and the greens are fast and dry. The pitch-and-run approach shot as practiced by Locke and other foreigners, rather than the "hit-and-stock" shot of the green favored by Americans, appears to be the necessary gesture in getting close to the pin. Locke excels at that shot, while the homebreds who generally shoot for the pin may find their ball skidding far past the objective, unless the rains come to soften the greens.

The classy field plays 18 holes today, another 18 tomorrow, and the low 60 and ties battle down the 36-hole stretch Sunday. Sixty-four of the 107 starters from Ohio, and many of those familiar with the tournament course are liable to give the hot-shot invaders a fight for the funds.

ASHLEY BOOKS TWIN BILL

Ashley Independents have a doubleheader booked on their home grounds Sunday with Galena and Mt. Vernon. The first game will start at 1:30 p. m.

Dizz Dean, Satchel Paige Pushed Nelson into Cub Chain and Pro Baseball

Two of baseball's most colorful characters persuaded Marion outfielder, Melvin Nelson, into signing a contract with the Chicago farm system.

After catching Dizzy Dean in a game for Old Dutch semi-pro club of Toledo against Satchel Page's colored All-Stars at Lima in 1945, the two eccentrics thought young Nelson had the makings of a professional.

They both suggested he try the Cub chain gang in which to attempt to reach the big time.

Melvin who was only 18 years old at the time raked the colored fastballer for two hits as his Old Dutch team defeated the colored All-Stars.

Hails from Toledo

Nelson hails from Toledo and played football, basketball and baseball for nearby Clay High school. He played for four summers with the Old Dutch team before he was signed for the Cub organization by Tony Lucadello, Wrigley scout.

He was placed on the roster of the Davenport, Ia., club of the class B Three-I league. The Davenport club optioned him to Marion just before the season opened here, after he had trained in the south.

Although he had been a catcher before coming here, both Dick Spalding, Cub scout, and Manager Nelson Burbrink wanted him to become an outfielder. Mel spent several days practicing in the outer garden before making the change. He then played left field for the locals before Wally Rasmussen came here. Now he has become a substitute outfielder, catcher, and pinch hitter.

Plays Against Lefties

He often plays the outfield when a lefthander is facing the Cubs, replacing either Bob Shuford or Rasmussen.

Nelson has been a consistent batter all season as his average has varied very little. Latest reports give him 53 hits in 183 times at bat for an average of .289. He has driven 29 runs over the plate in 60 games. Mel is one of the few Cub players who performs better on the road than at Lincoln Park.

In the off season Nelson manages and plays with an independent basketball team in Toledo. His quintet finished second in the Northwestern Ohio tournament last winter.

He is 21 years old, is six feet two inches tall and tips the scales at 187 pounds

CINCINNATI, July 25 — In quest of his 16th consecutive victory, Redleg Ewell Blackwell faces a multiple task tonight as he takes on the cellar-dwelling Philadelphia Phillies.

His Cincinnati teammates have lost six straight games and they look for the stylish right-hander to put them back on victory road.

A victory for the Cincinnati hurler would be the first time a National league pitcher has won 16 straight since Carl Hubbell of the Giants turned the trick in 1936, although Rube Marquard, also of the Giants, holds the league record of 19 in a row, set in 1912.

The American league consecutive win record is 16, held jointly by Joe Wood, Red Sox, 1912; Walter Johnson, Washington, also in 1912; Lefty Grove, Athletics, 1931, and Schoolboy Rowe, then of Detroit, now with the Phillies, in 1934.

The Reds helped Brooklyn take a tighter hold on first place yesterday by bowing to the Dodgers, 6-1. It was their fifth straight loss to the Brooks.

Feller Gets 12th Win As Tribe Snaps Streak

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 25—Lou Boudreau's problematic Indians take on the sixth place Washington Senators tonight after finally squeezing a victory from the Philadelphia Athletics.

Whether the 6-1 win at Philadelphia last night had anything to do with Boudreau's college-try pep talk the night before was questionable. But in any case the Indians looked considerably brighter afield and at the plate.

For one thing, they got Bob Feller some runs, something he must have found hard to adjust himself to. And finally, they handed Bob his 12th game, tops for American league pitchers so far.

The blunt dressing-down administered by Manager Boudreau Wednesday night was delivered at the clubhouse just before the game, which the Indians went out and lost Talking about it later, Boudreau said:

"I told the fellows that one of two things is wrong Either they are too tired to give their best efforts or they've decided that the season is over and all they have to do is go through the motions the rest of the way.

"Well, I'm pretty tired myself, but I'll be damned if I'll quit as long as I can stand on two feet. And the season isn't over"

Comeback of Cards Traced To Hot Batting by Stan Musial

By The Associated Press

Trace the rise in efficiency of Stan Musial with the stick, and you'll find it parallels the rise of the world champion St. Louis Cardinals from their cellar position or not so long ago to their present eminence in third place.

The Cardinals great first baseman, who ended the 1946 National league season with the most hits, the most doubles and triples as well as a top .365 batting average which helped him win the most valuable player award, got off to his worst start in all of his nine years in professional baseball.

Musial really began to sizzle in July. He swatted the pill for a .325 average to bring his mark up to a current .273. Sparked by his big bat, the Cards won 15 of their 24 games during this month to sweep past the Chicago Cubs and New York Giants into third place.

Cards Win, 3-2

It was Musial's 10th inning that drove in Red Schoendienst with the run yesterday that gave the Cards a 3-2 overtime victory over the Giants and sent them into third place, only one half game behind the second place Boston Braves.

The Chicago Cubs defeated the Braves, 6-4. Rookie outfielder Cliff Aberson provided the punch with two triples which drove in three runs and rookie right-hander pitcher Doule Lade stopped nine hits respectively for the eight win.

Pittsburgh vacated the National league cellar and dumped the Phillies into that spot by sweeping both ends of a doubleheader from Philadelphia, 8-6 and 3-2.

Yankees Steam On

Enjoying their best hitting day of the season, the American league leading New York Yankees pounded three St. Louis hurlers for 20 hits to trounce the Browns, 15-4. Johnny Lindell, Tommy Henrich and George McQuinn hit three runs for the Yanks. Jeff Heath slammed homers number 18 and 19 for the Browns to tie Boston's Ted Williams for the league lead.

The Yanks's first place margin over runner-up Detroit rose to 11½ games when the Washington Senators, behind the four-hit pitching of Walter Masterson, defeated Hal Newhouser and the Tigers, 3-0, at night in the Capital city.

With Williams smacking his 19th four bagger and driving in two runs, and Denny Galehouse-Brownie castoff, scattering 10 hits for his fifth win in a Red Sox uniform, Boston continued its home mastery over Chicago by trimming the White Sox, 8-2.

First Baptist Team Tops Richwood Loop

RICHWOOD, July 25 — The First Baptist topped the Richwood Church Softball league by smashing First Methodist, 15-6, on Memorial Field Wednesday night.

Wiley set the pace in the second inning by hitting a home run with the bases loaded. The game was called at the end of the fifth inning by the league rule that if any team is leading by seven runs at this time the contest is complete.

In the other game played, Central Methodist won from Essex, 10-7. Games next Wednesday night are: Central Methodist vs. Baptist, First Methodist vs. Essex.

Resolutions Needed

The reorganization act allows that. In such a case congress can pass a simple resolution to continue working until its job is finished.

This year congress sees no reason for continuing work beyond the deadline laid down in the act, the last day in July.

In fact, it figures it doesn't have to have to wait until then, that it can wind up its affairs by tomorrow night and quit for the year.

That's why congress has been working overtime this week, slamming some bills through and slinging aside and killing others.

Although the full congress expects to fold by tomorrow night, this does not mean congressional work for 1947 is through.

A whole swarm of congressional committees will be working between now and 1948.

They'll be investigating subjects ranging from the cost of living to farming, housing and foreign affairs.

So you'll be hearing about congress until next January, when the full congress returns. Then you'll be hearing about more congressmen.

LIGHT SELLING PUTS BRAKES ON MARKET

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, July 25—A few special oil stocks and other industrials continued to make headway today although light selling put brakes on many market leaders.

Propping oullish sentiment was another batch of good earnings and dividends, persistence of inflationary psychology and business optimism.

Tops for 1947 were registered by American Smelting, Pacific Western Oil, Skelly Oil, International Silver and E. W. Bliss. Brooklyn Union Gas was buoyed by the granting of a temporary gas rate increase. Ahead at intervals were Corn Porducts, American Radiator, Phelps Dodge, Du Pont, Owens-Illinois, Santa Fe and Chesapeake and Ohio.

Backward most of the time were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Chrysler, General Motors, U. S. Rubber, International Harvester, United Aircraft, American Telephone, International Nickel, Kennecott, American Can, Dow Chemical, Union Carbide, Southern Pacific, Baltimore and Ohio and Standard Oil (NJ).

AUTO AND TRUCK TRAILER IN CRASH

Two Children Unhurt in Accident Near Galion.

Two small children and their uncle escaped injury in an accident east of Galion on Route 30-S last night, the state highway patrol reported.

The children, Kay Garverick, 5, and Allen, 3, were riding with their uncle, Phillip Garverick, on a trailer being towed by a tractor driven by the children's father, Henry Garverick, 33, of near Galion. It was hit by a car driven by Robert M. Heefner of near Mansfield. Both vehicles were going east at dusk. There were no lights on the trailer and Heefner did not see it until it was too late to avoid a collision, patrolmen said. He swerved his car and hit the left rear end of the trailer. The Heefner car was demolished and damage to the trailer was considerable, but there were no injuries.

Another accident in the patrol's area occurred on route 4, south of Marion, near the Maplewood restaurant at about 9:30 last night. A car driven by Miss Charlaine Krebs, 22, of 212 Wildwood court and a truck driven by William Stine, 27, of Dayton collided. There were no injuries and very little damage.

British Warships Chase Boatload of Immigrants

By The Associated Press

JERUSALEM, July 25—A refugee ship named "Return to Zion," carrying 400 illegal immigrants, was reported by the Jewish underground organization Haganah to be nearing Palestine waters today with British destroyers "already on her track."

Haganah announced the approach of the ship simultaneously with an assertion that it had learned through its intelligence corps that the British planned to impose martial law on all Jews in the Holy Land in an effort to curb a wave of violence in which at least 10 persons have been killed and 75 wounded in the last nine days.

LIQUOR BAN WEIGHED

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., July 25—Local officials will decide the matter of enforcing the old ban on liquor sales within two miles of state and county fairs, State Liquor Director Dale Dunifon said yesterday, adding that state liquor stores and agencies will close. The old law, repealed by the last legislature, does not expire until Sept. 8, too late for many expositions.

EX-KIWANIS HEAD DIES

By The United Press

CLINTON, Ia., July 25—Colonel William J. Carrington, 63, past president of Kiwanis international and a former vice-president of the American Medical association, died yesterday at his home here.

ADA MAN NAMED COACH AT FOREST

Lowell Reese Signs for Post in Hardin County.

Lowell Reese of Ada, was elected head coach of Forest High at a meeting of the board of education last evening. Mr. Reese graduated from Ohio Northern University in 1933 where he majored in physical education, biological science, and mathematics.

He had seven years coaching experience before going to Ada High in 1942. In this year his football team was undefeated and his basketball team won 13 out of 16 games. In 1943 his football team lost but one game and until his induction into the army on Nov. 24, 1943, his basketball team was undefeated.

Mr. Reese was assigned to Co G, 143rd Inf., 36th Texas Div. He saw service in Italy and in the Vosges Mountains area of France. He was wounded severely on Oct 1, 1944, just before the final push across the Moselle River.

Since his discharge in April 1945, he has been recovering from the effects of his wounds and has not been active in the coaching field. Mr. Reese and his wife will move to Forest within the next few days.

The Forest faculty is now complete with the exception of a teacher for home economics and one for Latin and girls' physical education.

LOVE'S PERILOUS PATH

By ADELE GARRISON

MARY'S look and words made me feel as though I were up against the traditional stone wall

But desperation at the thought of Philip Veritzens's probable reaction to this whole problem, gave me the strength to combat her resolution

"Mary," I said quietly, "have you ever known me to ask you to do anything that I thought was wrong?"

Her eyes brimmed with ready tears

"No, you darling Auntie Madge," she said. "I couldn't have lived without you, and that's why it's so hard for me to say no to you now But can't you see how it is with me? How would you feel about keeping Uncle Dicky in the dark about something concerning you, while somebody else blabbed it to Phil Veritzen? Oh!" she exclaimed in sudden horror "I didn't mean that the way it sounded!"

I laughed, and knew she was relieved at my mirth. Then I went steadily on

"If it meant helping Uncle Dicky by keeping still, I wouldn't care how much was told Philip Veritzen," I said calmly, conscious that I was stretching the truth until it cracked at every seam

"You old Sapphira, or whatever her name was," Mary said fondly, "you know you're lying in your teeth, but I love you for it. And I'm listening I'm not convinced, but I'm willing to look at the arguments Put 'em up, old dear"

Phil's Ego Concerned

"Phils ego is concerned in this," I said

"As it is in everything he ever sees or hears," she countered.

"Granted," I said "But he is especially sensitive about this because he feels that you flouted his authority—and his generous care of you—in coming home from the sanitarium without permission."

"I know," she said contritely, "I oughtn't to have done that But Id have been dead or behind bars —as, in fact, I am now,' and she glanced at the windows—"if I hadn't come home"

"I haven't time to discuss the bars at present," I said "You know you're all wrong about them But I must tell you that if Philip Veritzen finds out that anyone, even his son, outside those of us who have been nursing you, has been told of this thing before he learns of it, he is going to be so angry and humiliated that I do not know what he may do in retaliation"

She was silent, and I followed up my small advantage.

Can Persuade Him

"I firmly believe," I said, "that if I can tell him first about this, I can persuade him from ever letting Noel know that your husband was second to know about it. And, of course, you will tell no one else before you tell Noel, so that your skirts will be clear You are not responsible for my actions

"You see, you have put on such a wonderful act for Noel, that he will not be surprised by your swift recovery He will suspect nothing And, as I said before, your telling him may very well wait until you are in your own apartment But Philip Veritzen must be assured truthfully that he is the first to know the circumstances

"You may say," I went on, "that Noel could pretend he was not the first to know it But you know that Noel never could hide such knowledge if he received it this morning"

She was silent for fully a minute Then she raised her head and looked at me

"You win," she said "I can tell now it's necessary, but I'm telling you now I don't like any part of it"

"Do you think I relish it?" I asked her with a wry smile, and she hugged me tightly

"You always get the dirty jobs," she said "But you can telephone Noel and ask him to breakfast if I promise to keep mum, can't you?"

On the Way

"I'm on my way now to do that very thing," I said "Please tell Aunt Katharine I'm sorry I didn't help you with your stockings, but I didn't have time"

"I'll present your apologies," she said, with one of her old gamin grins, and my heart rejoiced as I went into the sitting room Mary was fast getting back to her old self again

But it was not Noel whom I first called When Olma answered, I asked for her stepfather, and when he came to the phone I went directly to the point.

"Philip," I said, "something has come up concerning Mary about which we must consult you later in the morning Can you come down in about two hours?"

"Of course," he replied. "How is Mary this morning?"

"Better than we had hoped" I told him "Indeed, this will prove it She wants to have Noel come up and breakfast with her, and Dr Twitchell has approved the request Will you tell him, please?"
